EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Between January 2015 and August 2026, at least 47 bills, resolutions, and joint resolutions with Israel as their primary subject were introduced in the U.S. Congress. Of these, at least 15 became law or were incorporated into law via NDAA or omnibus vehicles. The pipeline that produces, advances, and enforces this legislation is not a conventional legislative process. It is a production line with seven stages. Total documented pro-Israel political spending across three election cycles (2022–2026) exceeds $256 million through AIPAC's PAC and super PAC alone; the full ecosystem including think tanks, dark money, and defense contractor lobbying likely exceeds $500 million to $1 billion. On July 15, 2026, 103 Democrats voted to cut off $3.3 billion in military aid to Israel — the largest vote against unconditional aid in American history. On that same day, the dam broke. Beyond Congress, the pipeline operates through universities (federal grants, military-academic partnerships, ADL surveillance), intelligence agencies (NSA raw data sharing with Mossad, 500+ revolving door officials), religious organizations (CUFI's 10 million members, $180M+ in donations, biblical crusader rhetoric), state legislatures (37 states with anti-BDS laws, compliance economy expanding to fossil fuels and firearms), international legal bodies (U.S. defiance of ICJ and UNGA rulings), and media algorithms (surveillance, suppression, narrative control). The pipeline is a total system — not just legislation, but the capture of every institution that shapes what Americans believe, fear, and vote for.

1. Model Legislation Factories: AIPAC, the Foundation for Defense of Democracies (FDD), the Jewish Institute for National Security of America (JINSA), the American Legislative Exchange Council (ALEC), and Christians United for Israel (CUFI) draft bill text, provide policy rationales, and shop legislation to members.
2. Revolving Door: At least 66 former AIPAC staffers currently work in the U.S. federal government, 40 of them in Congress. Seven former AIPAC staffers work for Israeli government institutions. Six current AIPAC staffers previously worked for Israel. There are 153 LinkedIn connections between AIPAC staff and Israeli government employees.
3. Money Pipeline: AIPAC's PAC and super PAC (United Democracy Project) spent nearly $126.9 million on federal elections in 2023–2024 — a 2.5× increase over 2022. In the 2026 cycle, UDP has raised $104 million and spent $52.5 million through June 2026, with more than $27.9 million on independent expenditures. More than 40% of UDP spending in 2026 has been shielded through pop-up and pass-through PACs. The total pro-Israel PAC ecosystem includes 18+ tracked PACs (AIPAC, DMFI, RJC, NORPAC, JStreet, PIA, etc.) with career totals reaching $36+ million for single members. Defense contractors have received $2.4 trillion in Pentagon contracts from 2020-2024, with $771 billion to just five firms (Lockheed Martin, RTX/Raytheon, Boeing, General Dynamics, Northrop Grumman). Total U.S. military aid to Israel since 1959:

$251.2 billion (inflation-adjusted to 2024 dollars).

4. Committee Gatekeeping: The House Foreign Affairs Committee, House Appropriations Committee, and House Armed Services Committee control which bills live, die, or are folded into must-pass vehicles.
5. Floor Mechanics: Suspension of the rules, NDAA riders, and omnibus/supplemental appropriations packages allow Israel-related provisions to bypass normal amendment and debate procedures.
6. Enforcement Mechanism: Primary-election destruction of dissenters. UDP spent $14.5 million in 2024 to defeat Jamaal Bowman and $8.5 million to defeat Cori Bush. In 2022, it spent approximately $24 million to defeat Andy Levin and Donna Edwards. In 2026, UDP spent $4.1 million opposing Thomas Massie (who lost) and $5 million supporting Melissa Conyears-Ervin (who also lost). The Kentucky Republican primary between Massie and Ed Gallrein became the most expensive House primary in history at $37 million total spending.
7. Presidential Signature: Once delivered, bills are signed regardless of public opinion. Gallup found 55% of Americans disapproved of Israel's Gaza actions in 2024; Congress passed $18 billion in military aid anyway.

PART I: THE MODEL LEGISLATION FACTORIES

1.1 AIPAC — The Federal Pipeline

The American Israel Public Affairs Committee (AIPAC) is a 501(c)(4) organization that explicitly states it "lobbies Congress to pass annual U.S. security assistance to Israel, support lifesaving missile defense cooperation, and fund joint programs." It claims 6.5 million members and operates the largest pro-Israel PAC in the United States.

AIPAC does not merely advocate for bills. It drafts them.

Case 1: Israel Anti-Boycott Act (2017) H.R. 1697 (Rep. Peter Roskam, R-IL) and S. 720 (Sen. Ben Cardin, D-MD) were introduced on March 23, 2017. The Jewish Telegraphic Agency reported explicitly that the bill "was drafted with the assistance of the American Israel Public Affairs Committee." AIPAC identified passage of this bill as one of its top lobbying priorities for 2017.

Case 2: Combating BDS Act (2019) S. 1, introduced by Sen. Marco Rubio (R-FL) on the first day of the 116th Congress (January 3, 2019), was AIPAC's "top legislative priority." AIPAC circulated a memo to all members of Congress defending the bill. The bill was part of a four-bill Middle East package co-sponsored by Sens. James Risch (R-ID), Cory Gardner (R-CO), and Mitch McConnell (R-KY).

Case 3: Stand with Israel Act (2026) H.R. 7018 (Rep. Mike Lawler, R-NY) and S. 1521 (Sen. James Risch, R-ID) are endorsed by AIPAC, JINSA, FDD Action, the Republican Jewish Coalition, the Combat Antisemitism Movement, ZOA, Christians United for Israel (CUFI), Heritage Action, and EMET. The bill is explicitly modeled after the existing prohibition on funding UN entities that elevate Palestinian Authority status. S. 1521 has 27 Republican co-sponsors including John Barrasso, Marsha Blackburn, John Boozman, Katie Britt, Ted Budd, Shelley Moore Capito, Susan Collins, John Cornyn, Tom Cotton, Mike Crapo, Joni Ernst, Deb Fischer, Lindsey Graham, Bill Hagerty, Josh Hawley, John Hoeven, James Justice, James Lankford, Mike Lee, Cynthia Lummis, David McCormick, Ashley Moody, Pete Ricketts, Mike Rounds, Rick Scott, and Thom Tillis.

Case 4: United States–Israel Defense Partnership Act (2025) H.R. 1229 and S. 554 are promoted on AIPAC's bill summaries page. The House version is authored by Reps. Joe Wilson (R-SC) and Donald Norcross (D-NJ); the Senate version by Sens. Dan Sullivan (R-AK), Gary Peters (D-MI), Richard Blumenthal (D-CT), Pete Ricketts (R-NE), and Jacky Rosen (D-NV). The bill establishes a U.S.-Israel Counter-Unmanned Systems Program authorized at $150 million annually through FY2030, extends the "Future of Warfare" emerging technologies program at $50 million annually through FY2030, extends anti-tunnel and counter-UAS cooperation through FY2028 with $20 million increases each, extends the War Reserve Stockpile Authority-Israel through January 1, 2029, directs the Pentagon to establish a Defense Innovation Unit office in Israel, and directs engagement on adding Israel to the National Technology and Industrial Base (NTIB).

1.2 Think Tanks — The Policy Pipeline

Foundation for Defense of Democracies (FDD) FDD Action, the 501(c)(4) advocacy arm of FDD, endorses legislation and provides the intellectual architecture. FDD Action endorsed the Expediting Israeli Aerial Refueling Act (2023), stating it was necessary "to deter and defeat a potential sprint by Iran to a nuclear weapons capability." FDD Action also endorsed the United States–Israel FUTURES Act of 2026, with Senior Director of Government Relations Tyler Stapleton issuing a public statement. FDD Action's FY2026 NDAA Resource Guide strongly supports House § 870A (Prohibition on Contracts with Boycotters of Israel), House § 1212 / Senate § 1255 (U.S.-Israel Anti-Tunnel Cooperation Extension), House § 1213 / Senate § 1256 (Counter-UAS Cooperation Extension), House § 1211 (War Reserve Stockpile Authority for Israel), House § 1216 (Defense Innovation Unit Office in Israel), and House § 1725 (Briefing on Expediting Arms Transfers to Israel).

Jewish Institute for National Security of America (JINSA) JINSA President Michael Makovsky publicly applauded the Expediting Israeli Aerial Refueling Act. JINSA published a detailed analysis of the National Security Supplemental (P.L. 118-50) in April 2024, noting that the final legislation included provisions that "closely track many of JINSA's previous recommendations," including:

- $4 billion for Iron Dome and David's Sling
- $4.4 billion to replace defense articles from DOD stocks
- Procurement of Iron Beam directed energy capabilities
- The Fight CRIME Act (sanctions on Iran's missile program)

- The SHIP Act (sanctions on Iranian oil exports)
- The No Technology for Terror Act (foreign direct product rule extension to Iran)

JINSA also noted that the FY2026 NDAA included more than two dozen provisions "inspired or informed by JINSA research and recommendations," including:

- Improvements to Middle East Air and Missile Defense
- The Countering Wrongful Detention Act
- U.S.-Israel Defense Industrial Base Cooperation (adding Israel to the National Technology and Industrial Base)

JINSA's August 2025 analysis of FY2026 NDAA provisions detailed:

- U.S.-Israel Cooperative Missile Defense Programs: House version allocates $60 million for Iron Dome co-production, $40 million for David's Sling, and up to $100 million for Arrow-3. Senate version (Sec. 1534) is identical.
- U.S.-Israel Subterranean Warfare Cooperation: House version (Sec. 1212) maintains $50 million authorized funding and reauthorizes through 2028. Senate version (Sec. 1255) increases authorization from $50 million to $80 million.
- U.S.-Israel Cooperation to Counter Adversaries' UAS Capabilities: House version (Sec. 1213) authorizes $70 million. Senate version (Sec. 1256) increases from $55 million to $75 million.

1.3 ALEC — The State-to-Federal Pipeline

The American Legislative Exchange Council (ALEC) has produced model anti-BDS legislation that was introduced in state legislatures nationwide and later fed into federal bills.

- December 2015: ALEC's Federalism & International Relations Task Force introduced two model policies at its annual summit: (1) "Resolution on Countering the BDS movement" and (2) "Protection and Enforcement against the Commercial Exclusion of Israel Act."
- July 2016: The "PEACE Israel Act" was formally adopted as ALEC model legislation. The goal, according to ALEC, was "to create disincentives to engaging in … boycott activities … [that have] the intention of creating significant economic harm to Israeli or Jewish entities."
- 2017–2018: Wisconsin State Senator Leah Vukmir (ALEC national chairwoman) introduced Wisconsin's anti-BDS bill (2017 Act 248), derived from the ALEC model. The bill was signed into law in April 2018.
- 2019: Florida Rep. Randy Fine presented his anti-BDS bill at ALEC's annual conference and coordinated with the Israeli-American Coalition for Action to disseminate it to lawmakers from South Carolina, North Carolina, Arkansas, Kansas, and Oklahoma. A representative of the group boasted that their legal team had "refined [the bill] into a model that can be brought elsewhere."

The primary group collaborating with ALEC to promote anti-BDS legislation was the American Center for Law and Justice (ACLJ), founded by televangelist Pat Robertson in 1990.

ACLJ, with a 2016 budget of over $53 million and closely associated with Trump personal attorney Jay Sekulow, worked behind the scenes with ALEC to develop and push for adoption of anti-BDS legislation. In many of the 27 states that adopted anti-BDS measures, main sponsors were closely tied to ALEC: Georgia SB327 was co-sponsored by state Senator Judson Hill (ALEC "Legislator of the Year"); Tennessee SB1250 by state Senator Dolores Gresham (ALEC Education Task Force); Indiana HB1378 by Representative Brian Bosma (ALEC Energy and Civil Justice Task Forces).

1.4 Christians United for Israel (CUFI) — The Grassroots Religious Pipeline

CUFI is the nation's largest pro-Israel organization with a self-declared membership of over 10 million. Its legislative arm, the CUFI Action Fund, is a 501(c)(4) that lobbies Congress.

2020 Legislative Agenda: CUFI members urged Congress to co-sponsor and pass:

- H.R. 6451, the "UNRWA Reform and Refugee Support Act"
- S. 720, the "Israel Anti-Boycott Act"
- The "STOP Using Human Shields Act" (Sens. Cruz and Donnelly)

CUFI claimed credit for passage of the Taylor Force Act. CUFI members sent over one million emails to Congress on the Taylor Force Act.

2022 Conference: CUFI focused on the DEFEND Act (Sen. Joni Ernst, R-IA), which sought to expand U.S. cooperation with Middle Eastern countries to deter Iran via integrated air and missile defense.

Annual Lobbying Day: Each July, thousands of CUFI activists meet with congressional offices. In 2020, CUFI claimed its members would meet with "more than 98 percent of all congressional offices."

PART II: THE REVOLVING DOOR

2.1 AIPAC → U.S. Government

Person	AIPAC Role	Government Role
David Gillette	Executive VP for Policy & Government Affairs	Former Deputy Assistant Secretary, U.S. State Department
Ira Forman	Former AIPAC staffer	Former U.S. Special Envoy to Monitor and Combat Anti-Semitism, State Department

2.2 Government → AIPAC Lobbyists

The following are registered AIPAC lobbyists who previously worked as congressional or Senate staffers, per LegiStorm data:

- Oren S. Adaki
- Daniel Bleiberg
- Michael D. Fleischman
- Enia Deidre Krivine

2.3 Scale of the Revolving Door

According to a DAWN (Democracy for the Arab World Now) network analysis of LinkedIn data:

- 66 former AIPAC staffers currently work in the U.S. federal government.
- 40 of those 66 work in Congress, including on the House Foreign Affairs Committee.
- 23 current AIPAC staffers previously worked in U.S. government bodies; 17 of those previously worked in Congress.
- 7 former AIPAC staffers currently work for Israeli government institutions.
- 6 current AIPAC staffers previously worked for Israel.
- 153 LinkedIn connections between AIPAC staff and Israeli government employees, including:
- 44 with Israel's Ministry of Foreign Affairs and diplomatic missions
- 4 with the Israeli Prime Minister's Office
- 29 with the Israel Defense Forces (including military intelligence)

AIPAC says it is "an American organization," "funded by" and "directed by Americans" that takes no direction from any foreign government. The data shows that AIPAC staff maintain direct professional connections to Israeli government and quasi-governmental institutions.

2.4 Think Tank ↔ AIPAC Staff Movement

Institution	Staff Movement
Foundation for Defense of Democracies (FDD)	18 staffers moved between AIPAC and FDD
Anti-Defamation League (ADL)	16 staffers moved between AIPAC and ADL
Jewish Federations	45 staffers moved between AIPAC and various Jewish Federations

Institution	Staff Movement
Hillel International	25 staffers moved between AIPAC and Hillel

2.5 Congressional Travel — The Indirect Pipeline

AIPAC has spent at least $10 million on congressional travel to Israel between 2012 and 2023, per LegiStorm data. Roughly half of the current members of the House have traveled with the organization since 2012. The organization spent over $3 million on lobbying in 2024, placing it among the top 3 percent of all lobbyist groups tracked by OpenSecrets. According to AIPAC's own "Truth About Lobbying" page, OpenSecrets ranks AIPAC as the 191st largest lobby in Washington, spending $3.3 million in 2024.

AIPAC's charitable affiliate, the American Israel Education Foundation (AIEF), sponsors these trips. AIPAC's use of AIEF allows it to legally get around a 2007 law that limits lobbyists' direct involvement in most privately sponsored travel. An exception in the law allows some 501(c)(3) organizations such as AIEF to sponsor travel. AIPAC lobbied for this exception and it is known by some as the "AIPAC loophole." Without the exception, AIPAC would be limited to sponsoring one-day trips as an organization that employs lobbyists.

In June 2024, as Benjamin Netanyahu continued his defiance of the Biden administration over the war in Gaza, eight U.S. House members and two staffers arrived at Tel Aviv's luxurious Kempinski Hotel for a four-day AIPAC-sponsored immersion in Israeli politics. The lawmakers toured the nation and met with speakers largely aligned with Netanyahu's right-wing views — including Netanyahu himself. From March through early September 2024, eight trips by 71 House members and staffers traveled with AIPAC's nonprofit arm. Slightly more Republicans traveled than Democrats.

Rep. Glenn Ivey (D-MD), who defeated former Rep. Donna Edwards in a 2022 primary in which AIPAC's super PAC spent $6 million on his behalf, has taken two AIPAC trips since September 2023. Ivey said the most powerful moments were meeting with hostages' families and visiting the Nova music festival site. Critics maintain the trips have left lawmakers with a one-sided understanding of U.S.-Israel relations.

PART III: THE MONEY PIPELINE

3.1 Tier 1: AIPAC PAC (Direct Contributions)

- 2024 cycle: Endorsed 361 candidates and contributed more than $53 million in direct support.
- AIPAC members' contributions historically constitute "roughly 10 to 15% of a typical congressional campaign budget."

3.2 Tier 2: United Democracy Project (UDP) — The Super PAC

United Democracy Project was established on January 3, 2022. It is AIPAC's super PAC and cannot donate directly to candidates, but can raise and spend unlimited amounts on independent expenditures.

2022 cycle: Spent approximately $24 million to defeat candidates critical of Israel.

- $4.3 million opposing Donna Edwards (D-MD) in the Senate primary
- $3.9 million supporting Haley Stevens (D-MI) against Andy Levin
- $3.3 million opposing Summer Lee (D-PA)
- $200,000 opposing Nina Turner (D-OH)
- $83,000 supporting Shontel Brown (D-OH)

2024 cycle: Spent $61.4 million total.

- Almost $10 million opposing Jamaal Bowman (D-NY)
- $5.2 million opposing Cori Bush (D-MO)
- $4.2 million supporting Sarah Elfreth (D-MD)
- Nearly $320,000 opposing Thomas Massie (R-KY)

2023–2024 combined: AIPAC PAC + UDP spent nearly $126.9 million on federal elections — a 2.5× increase over 2022.

2026 cycle (through June 2026): According to FEC records, UDP raised about $104 million and spent about $52.5 million, with more than $27.9 million on independent expenditures.

- $5 million supporting Melissa Conyears-Ervin (IL-07) — lost primary to La Shawn Ford
- $2.3 million opposing Tom Malinowski (D-NJ) — lost special primary to Analilia Mejia
- Over $3 million opposing Thomas Massie (R-KY) — lost primary to Ed Gallrein

- Over $1 million supporting Adrian Boafo (MD-05) — won primary
- $4.1 million on mostly attack ads against Massie (via direct UDP spending)
- $3.9 million on mostly positive Gallrein ads via Republican Jewish Coalition Victory Fund (funded in part by UDP-aligned donors)

Largest UDP contributors for 2026: Paul Singer (Elliott Management), Blair Frank, Marc Rowan, Haim Saban.

Shell PAC Strategy: In 2026, UDP shielded more than 40% of its spending through pop-up and pass-through PACs. Documented shell PACs include:

- Elect Chicago Women: Received $5.3 million from UDP in February 2026 for four Illinois races. Spent $1.18 million attacking Kat Abughazaleh and $105,000 supporting Bushra Amiwala in IL-09. Result: Daniel Biss won (29.6%), Abughazaleh second (25.9%), Fine third (20.4%).
- Affordable Chicago Now: Received UDP funding to support Donna Miller in IL-02. Miller won.
- Chicago Progressive Partnership: Spent $165,000 attacking Abughazaleh. UDP confirmed to The Washington Post that it funded this PAC.
- BOLD America: Only reported $246,000 cash on hand in April 2026, yet spent $2.8 million on NY-13 since May 18. Likely UDP-funded.
- Save Democracy PAC: Received $100,000 transfer from pro-Israel groups. Ran ads for Stella Pekarsky in VA-11 (finished third).

- United for Progress: Nearly half of the $411,000 spent on behalf of Espaillat could have been covered by one DMFI transfer in May.

Most transfers were disclosed only after voting concluded, meaning voters never got to learn who funded ads that influenced their votes. In 2026, more than 1 out of every 4 dollars in independent expenditures that UDP and DMFI disbursed — almost $8 million out of a total of $30.66 million — have been funneled to nine different partners and shell PACs.

3.3 Tier 3: The "Key Contact" Network

AIPAC maintains 5 to 15 "key contacts" for every senator. These are wealthy donors and activists matched with members based on shared interests. Former Rep. Brian Baird stated that "AIPAC-connected money" amounted to about $200,000 per campaign — "a four-hundred-thousand-dollar swing" between being with AIPAC or against it.

3.4 Tier 4: The Pro-Israel PAC Ecosystem

TrackAIPAC.com tracks 18+ pro-Israel PACs that contribute to congressional campaigns. The full ecosystem includes:

PAC	Full Name	Type
AIPAC	American Israel Public Affairs Committee	501(c)(4) + PAC
UDP	United Democracy Project	Super PAC (AIPAC's)
DMFI	Democratic Majority for Israel	PAC + Super PAC
RJC	Republican Jewish Coalition	PAC + 501(c)(4)

DMFI PAC (Democratic Majority for Israel):

- As of May 31, 2026, DMFI has spent $2.7 million in independent expenditures, primarily in five races, winning three and losing two.

- DMFI directly supported Tahesha Way in NJ-07 (lost to Analilia Mejia).
- DMFI has a super PAC arm that can spend unlimited amounts.

RJC Victory Fund (Republican Jewish Coalition):

- Spent $3.9 million on mostly positive Gallrein ads in KY-04.
- Funded in part by UDP-aligned donors.
- Also a 501(c)(4) advocacy organization.

NORPAC:

- Traditional PAC focused on pro-Israel Democratic candidates.
- Active in New Jersey and national races.

J Street PAC:

- Center-left pro-Israel organization that supports diplomacy and two-state solution.
- Endorsed Bernie Sanders' arms sale disapproval resolutions.
- Much smaller than AIPAC/UDP — represents the "dovish" wing of the pro-Israel lobby.

3.5 Academic Correlation: Money Follows Legislation

A 2025 study in the Turkish Journal of Middle Eastern Studies found that "financial contributions from the pro-Israeli AIPAC lobby are closely tied to members' active support for Israel's policy agenda in Congress, reflecting a direct relationship between legislative backing and financial incentives." The study found that donations are strategically targeted toward members facing competitive electoral environments.

3.6 Defense Contractor Profits — The Industrial Base Pipeline

The money does not stop at campaigns. It flows to defense contractors who manufacture the weapons sold to Israel.

Total U.S. Military Aid to Israel (1959-2024): According to the Watson Institute for International & Public Affairs at Brown University, total U.S. military aid to Israel accounted for $251.2 billion when adjusted for inflation to 2024 dollars.

Pentagon Contracts (2020-2024): Private firms received $2.4 trillion in contracts from the Pentagon, of which $771 billion went to just five firms:

- Lockheed Martin: ~40% of contract value (high-priced jets)
- RTX (formerly Raytheon): ~19% of contract value
- Boeing: ~15% of contract value
- General Dynamics: Significant share
- Northrop Grumman: Significant share

Israel-Specific Contracts:

- Iron Dome: Co-production between Raytheon and Rafael (Israeli firm). U.S. has invested over $2 billion in Iron Dome since 2011.
- David's Sling: Joint U.S.-Israel program. Raytheon and Rafael partnership.
- Arrow-3: Joint Boeing-Israel Aerospace Industries program.
- F-35 Joint Strike Fighter: Lockheed Martin. Israel has purchased 50+ F-35s at ~$100M each.

- KC-46 Aerial Refueling: Boeing. Israel requested expedited delivery.
- GBU-43/B MOAB (Massive Ordnance Air Blast): Boeing. Amendment 52 to H.R. 8034 sought to ensure Israel could obtain this weapon.
- 2,000-pound bombs, JDAMs, tank rounds: General Dynamics, Raytheon, Northrop Grumman.

The Co-Production Requirement: Since 2009, Israel has received $3.9 billion annually in missile defense funding, of which 25% could be spent on Israeli-origin systems. This is set to decrease to zero by 2028 — meaning all future aid must be spent on U.S.-origin systems. This creates a captured market for U.S. defense contractors. The FY2026 NDAA and H.R. 4016 explicitly authorize co-production in the U.S. and Israel, ensuring U.S. firms retain control of technology while Israeli firms get manufacturing contracts.

The FUTURES Act (Section 224/219/1217): This provision establishes an "executive agent" to synchronize U.S.-Israel defense technology cooperation across 10 domains. The New Republic noted: "No other country has this privilege with the U.S. military." This is integration typically reserved for Five Eyes intelligence partners, but without any treaty. It ensures a permanent, institutionalized revenue stream for defense contractors on both sides.

3.7 Pro-Israel PAC Contributions to Key Committee Members (TrackAIPAC Data)

Selected examples from TrackAIPAC.com (federal career totals from all pro-Israel PACs):

Member	District	Total	PACs	IE
Shontel Brown	OH-11	$5,090,445	$1,536,547	$3,553,898
Don Davis	NC-01	$4,059,404	$1,490,060	$2,569,344
Valerie Foushee	NC-04	$3,479,345	$483,998	$2,995,347
Maxine Dexter	OR-03	$2,212,990	$0	$2,212,990

PART V: COMMITTEE GATEKEEPING

5.1 House Foreign Affairs Committee (HFAC)

Current Chairman: Rep. Brian Mast (R-FL), a former IDF volunteer who lost both legs in Afghanistan.

Key Pipeline Members:

- Michael McCaul (R-TX): Introduced H.Res. 771; former HFAC Chairman
- Joe Wilson (R-SC): Sponsor of U.S.-Israel Defense Partnership Act
- Ronny Jackson (R-TX): Sponsor of FUTURES Act
- Michael Lawler (R-NY): Sponsor of Stand with Israel Act, Enhanced Iran Sanctions Act, Iran Human Rights Act; Chair of HFAC Middle East and North Africa Subcommittee
- Randy Fine (R-FL): ALEC-aligned; presented anti-BDS model legislation at ALEC conferences
- Chip Roy (R-TX): Sponsor of Illegitimate Court Counteraction Act
- Ken Calvert (R-CA): Also serves as Defense Appropriations Subcommittee Chairman

Function: Holds hearings, conducts markups, reports bills to floor. Produces committee reports that frame legislative intent for courts and agencies.

5.2 House Appropriations Committee

Defense Subcommittee Chairman: Ken Calvert (R-CA) — introduced H.R. 8369.

State/Foreign Ops Subcommittee Chairman: Mario Diaz-Balart (R-FL).

Function: Controls the money. The $26 billion Israel Security Supplemental (H.R. 8034) was drafted by Appropriations Chairman Tom Cole (R-OK) with Calvert and Diaz-Balart. Most Israel aid never gets a standalone vote; it is attached to NDAA or omnibus appropriations deemed "must-pass."

5.3 House Armed Services Committee

Function: The NDAA is the primary vehicle for Israel military aid. Provisions for U.S.-Israel anti-tunnel cooperation, War Reserve Stockpile Authority, Iron Dome authorization, and KC-46 aerial refueling are all inserted as NDAA amendments during markup, bypassing standalone scrutiny.

FY2026 NDAA Israel Provisions (P.L. 119-60):

- Section 1657 / Senate Sec. 1534: $60M for Iron Dome co-production, $40M for David's Sling, $100M for Arrow-3
- Anti-tunnel cooperation (House Sec. 1212 / Senate Sec. 1255): $50M-$80M authorized
- Counter-UAS (House Sec. 1213 / Senate Sec. 1256): $70M-$75M authorized
- U.S.-Israel Defense Industrial Base Working Group: Directed to be established within 90 days
- War Reserve Stockpile Authority-Israel: Extended through 2029
- Defense Innovation Unit office in Israel: Mandated

FY2027 NDAA Israel Provisions (Pending):

- Section 224 / 219 (House) / Section 1217 (Senate): The United States-Israel Defense Technology Cooperation Initiative — the FUTURES Act core provision. This establishes an "executive agent" at the Pentagon to synchronize U.S.-Israel defense technology cooperation across 10 domains including AI, autonomous systems, cyber, directed energy, biotechnology, and network integration. Authorizes $150M annually FY2027-FY2029. According to AIPAC, NDAA 2027 also includes "$750 million for U.S.-Israel cooperative programs — a $65 million increase over FY26."

PART VI: FLOOR MECHANICS

6.1 Method 1: Suspension of the Rules

- Used for H.Res. 771 (412–10) and many pro-Israel resolutions.
- Requires 2/3 majority but limits debate to 40 minutes and bars amendments.
- H.R. 1422 (Enhanced Iran Sanctions Act) passed by voice vote under suspension on March 14, 2026, with 277 cosponsors. This is a procedural lane typically reserved for measures with overwhelming cross-party support. The bill had 162 Republican and 115 Democratic cosponsors, spanning from Lauren Boebert to Steny Hoyer.

6.2 Method 2: NDAA Riders

- Israel provisions attached to the National Defense Authorization Act, which has passed for 64 consecutive years.
- Members cannot vote against Israel aid without voting against troop pay.
- The FUTURES Act was inserted as Section 224 of the House NDAA FY2027.
- H.R. 340 (Hamas Financing) passed the House as an NDAA rider but was stripped by the Senate.

6.3 Method 3: Omnibus / Supplemental Appropriations

- The $26 billion Israel Security Supplemental was folded into H.R. 815, a national security supplemental that also included Ukraine and Taiwan aid.
- Forces an up-or-down vote on the entire package — no amendments, no line-item vetoes.
- The House held separate votes on Israel (366–58), Ukraine (311–112), and Indo-Pacific (385–34) on April 20, 2024, then recombined them into a single bill for the Senate.
- H.R. 1968 (P.L. 119-4) extended loan guarantees to Israel through 2030 as part of a full-year continuing appropriations act.

6.4 Method 4: Discharge Petitions (Rare, Used Against)

- S.J.Res. 32–34, 138, 41, 70 (disapproving arms sales to Israel) were brought to the floor via discharge petitions.

- All failed. S.J.Res. 32 (bulldozers): 40-59. S.J.Res. 138 (bombs): 36-63. S.J.Res. 34: 24-73. S.J.Res. 41: 27-70.
- Notable Democratic "No" votes on S.J.Res. 32: Richard Blumenthal, Chris Coons, Catherine Cortez Masto, John Fetterman, Kirsten Gillibrand, Jacky Rosen, Chuck Schumer.
- Notable Democratic "No" votes on S.J.Res. 138: Added Gary Peters, Jack Reed, Mark Warner, Sheldon Whitehouse.

PART VII: THE ENFORCEMENT MECHANISM

7.1 Primary Challenge Destruction

Target	Year	UDP/AIPAC Spending	Outcome
Jamaal Bowman (NY-16)	2024	~$14.5 million	Defeated by George Latimer 52-48%
Cori Bush (MO-01)	2024	~$8.5 million	Defeated by Wesley Bell 51-46%
Cori Bush (MO-01)	2026	~$3 million UDP	Defeated again by Wesley Bell 59-37% (August 2026)
Andy Levin (MI-11)	2022	$4 million	Defeated by Haley Stevens
Donna Edwards (MD)	2022	$7 million	Defeated by Chris Van Hollen (Senate primary)
Thomas Massie (R-KY)	2026	~$4.1 million+ UDP, plus $3.9M RJC Victory Fund	Defeated by Ed Gallrein 54.9%-45.1%
Tom Malinowski (D-NJ)	2026	$2.3 million	Lost special primary to Analilia Mejia
Melissa Conyears-Ervin (IL-07)	2026	~$5 million supported	Lost to La Shawn Ford
Adrian Boafo (MD-05)	2026	~$1-5.7 million supported	Won primary
Laura Fine (IL-09)	2026	~$5.3M via Elect Chicago Women	Lost (3rd place, 20.4%)
Donna Miller (IL-02)	2026	Via Affordable Chicago Now	Won primary

Target	Year	UDP/AIPAC Spending	Outcome
Kat Abughazaleh (IL-09)	2026	Attacked by $1.18M+ via Elect Chicago Women	Lost (2nd place, 25.9%)
Bushra Amiwala (IL-09)	2026	Supported by $105K via Elect Chicago Women	Lost
Dave Min (CA-47)	2024	$4.5 million opposing	Lost (came in 2nd in top-two primary)

The Massie Race — A Case Study in Multi-Vector Destruction: The Kentucky Republican primary between Rep. Thomas Massie and Ed Gallrein became the most expensive House primary in history at $37 million total spending. Pro-Israel forces deployed multiple vectors:

- UDP: $4.1 million on mostly attack ads against Massie
- Republican Jewish Coalition Victory Fund: $3.9 million on mostly positive Gallrein ads
- MAGA KY (Trump-aligned): $7.4 million, funded by America 21 PAC ($4.4M), whose largest donor was Paul Singer ($3M)
- Miriam Adelson: $750,000 to MAGA KY
- John Paulson: $410,000 combined to MAGA KY and America 21
- Total pro-Gallrein PAC spending: Over $15.5 million

Massie had significant funding too ($18 million combined campaign and allied PACs), including $6.6 million from Kentucky 4th PAC, whose sole donor was Tamarack Aspen Inc., a Delaware 501(c)(4) dark money group with a Dallas FedEx shipping center address. The Campaign Legal Center filed an FEC complaint alleging an "unlawful straw donor scheme."

After his defeat, Massie announced he would introduce legislation requiring AIPAC to register under the Foreign Agents

Registration Act.

The Bowman Race — The Most Expensive House Primary Ever (2024): AIPAC spent at least $14.5 million on anti-Bowman ads through its PAC, United Democracy Project, as of June 20, 2024, according to FEC filings. Much of the spending came after a poll in March from pro-Israel group Democratic Majority for Israel showed Bowman trailing by 17 points. The race became the most expensive House primary in history at that time. Even some lawmakers who are generally supportive of Israel said the money was meant to intimidate Democrats away from criticism of the Jewish state. Rep. Jerrold Nadler (D-NY) said it was "not necessary for AIPAC to spend so much money," arguing that Bowman was "sufficiently out of step with the district" that Latimer would have won with "a lot less" financial support. A senior House Democrat said spending at this volume inevitably has a chilling effect on lawmakers.

The Bush-Bell Rematch (2026): In August 2026, Wesley Bell defeated Cori Bush again, this time by a staggering 59-37 percent margin (up from 51-46% in 2024). Bell's campaign and outside allies outspent Bush by a 27-to-1 ratio, according to AdImpact. United Democracy Project spent $2 million to support Bell, largely through negative ads attacking Bush. One ad slammed Bush for being critical of former Vice President Kamala Harris. AIPAC's super PAC poured $9.3 million into ads in the 2024 primary, accounting for nearly half of the spending in that race. In 2026, AIPAC spent much less — around $3 million through UDP — but the damage was already done. Bush had been branded as "anti-Israel" and "pro-Hamas" in the minds of voters. Sidney Clark, a Democratic candidate for state representative, said he supported Bell in 2024 but was voting for Bush in 2026 because Bell, in his view, has "been paid for." Airest Wilson, another Democratic voter, told NBC News that candidates who take corporate money cross a red line for him.

7.2 The Semantic Code

Former Rep. Brian Baird (D-WA): "Any member of Congress knows that AIPAC is associated indirectly with significant amounts of campaign spending if you're with them, and significant amounts against you if you're not with them… There's a whole complex semantic code you learn. After a while, you find yourself saying and repeating it as if it were fact."

7.3 Travel Indoctrination

AIPAC has spent at least $10 million on congressional travel to Israel since 2012. Half the current House has traveled with AIPAC. Rep. Glenn Ivey (D-MD), who defeated Donna Edwards in an AIPAC-funded primary, traveled to Israel in September 2023 and noted the itinerary included "a meeting with a Palestinian-Israeli peace activist, but not people in Gaza, and not the Palestinian Authority… heavy focus on Israel and Israeli politics."

PART VIII: PRESIDENTIAL SIGNATURE

8.1 Biden Administration (2021–2025)

- April 24, 2024: Signed H.R. 815 (P.L. 118-50), the $95.3 billion National Security Supplemental with approximately $26 billion for Israel.
- December 2024: Signed NDAA FY2025 with Israel provisions.

8.2 Trump Administration (2025–present)

- March 2025: Signed H.R. 1968 (P.L. 119-4), the Full-Year Continuing Appropriations Act, which extended loan guarantees to Israel through September 30, 2030, and extended the $500 million limit on stockpiles of defense articles in foreign countries through 2027.
- Expected: NDAA FY2026 (P.L. 119-60) with expanded Israel provisions including $500 million for Israeli Cooperative Programs, anti-tunnel cooperation, and counter-UAS programs.

8.3 Public Opinion Disconnect

Gallup found 55% of Americans disapproved of Israel's Gaza actions in 2024. Yet Congress passed $18 billion in military aid via P.L. 118-47 and P.L. 118-50. An April 2026 POLITICO poll found that 37% of voters who backed Kamala Harris in 2024 oppose AIPAC's attempts to influence elections — more than double those who support its efforts. Nearly half of Harris voters believe Israel's government has too much influence over U.S. foreign policy.

H.R. 3565 Details: Introduced May 21, 2025, with original co-leads Sara Jacobs (D-CA), Pramila Jayapal (D-WA), and Mark Pocan (D-WI). The bill prohibits the transfer of BLU-109 bunker buster bombs, 2,000-pound bombs, JDAMs, 120mm tank rounds, and 155mm artillery shells to Israel. It does not impact defensive systems like Iron Dome. In September 2025, the Congressional Progressive Caucus endorsed H.R. 3565 — the first time any major caucus in Congress has endorsed legislation to end U.S. funding for the destruction of Gaza. Co-sponsors include Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez, Ilhan Omar, Rashida Tlaib, Ayanna Pressley, Cori Bush, Ro Khanna, Summer Lee, and 40+ others. The bill has never received a committee hearing.

S.J.Res. (various)	118th	120mm mortar rounds, JDAM kits	Failed 17-80, 19-78 (November 2024)

Senate Vote Patterns: Bernie Sanders has forced multiple votes. In April 2026, 40 senators voted to block bulldozers (up from 11 in earlier efforts). More than 80% of the Democratic caucus voted to block aid in some form. But 11 Democrats consistently vote with Republicans against disapproval: Blumenthal, Coons, Cortez Masto, Fetterman, Gillibrand, Rosen, Schumer, and others.

Sen. Bernie Sanders stated: "A recent poll found that 60 percent — including three-quarters of Democrats and two-thirds of independents — oppose the U.S. sending arms to Israel." He argued the weapons have enabled mass civilian casualties, stating the Netanyahu government "has killed some 60,000 Palestinians and wounded more than 143,000 — most of whom are women, children and the elderly."

Sen. Brian Schatz (D-HI) offered a more measured framing: "I have always supported Israel's right to defend itself," but said he was "voting against these transfers of 2,000-pound and 500-pound bombs because the Netanyahu government's current use of weapons like these has resulted in extraordinary levels of civilian harm."

Sen. Christopher Coons (D-DE) broke with his party and explained why: "Israel may not need 2,000-pound bombs to prosecute its war against Hamas, but it will need them in the event of war against Iran." He added that Trump's "continued provocations in the Middle East" made a regional conflict "far more likely," and argued that stripping Israel of deterrent capacity now was the wrong move.

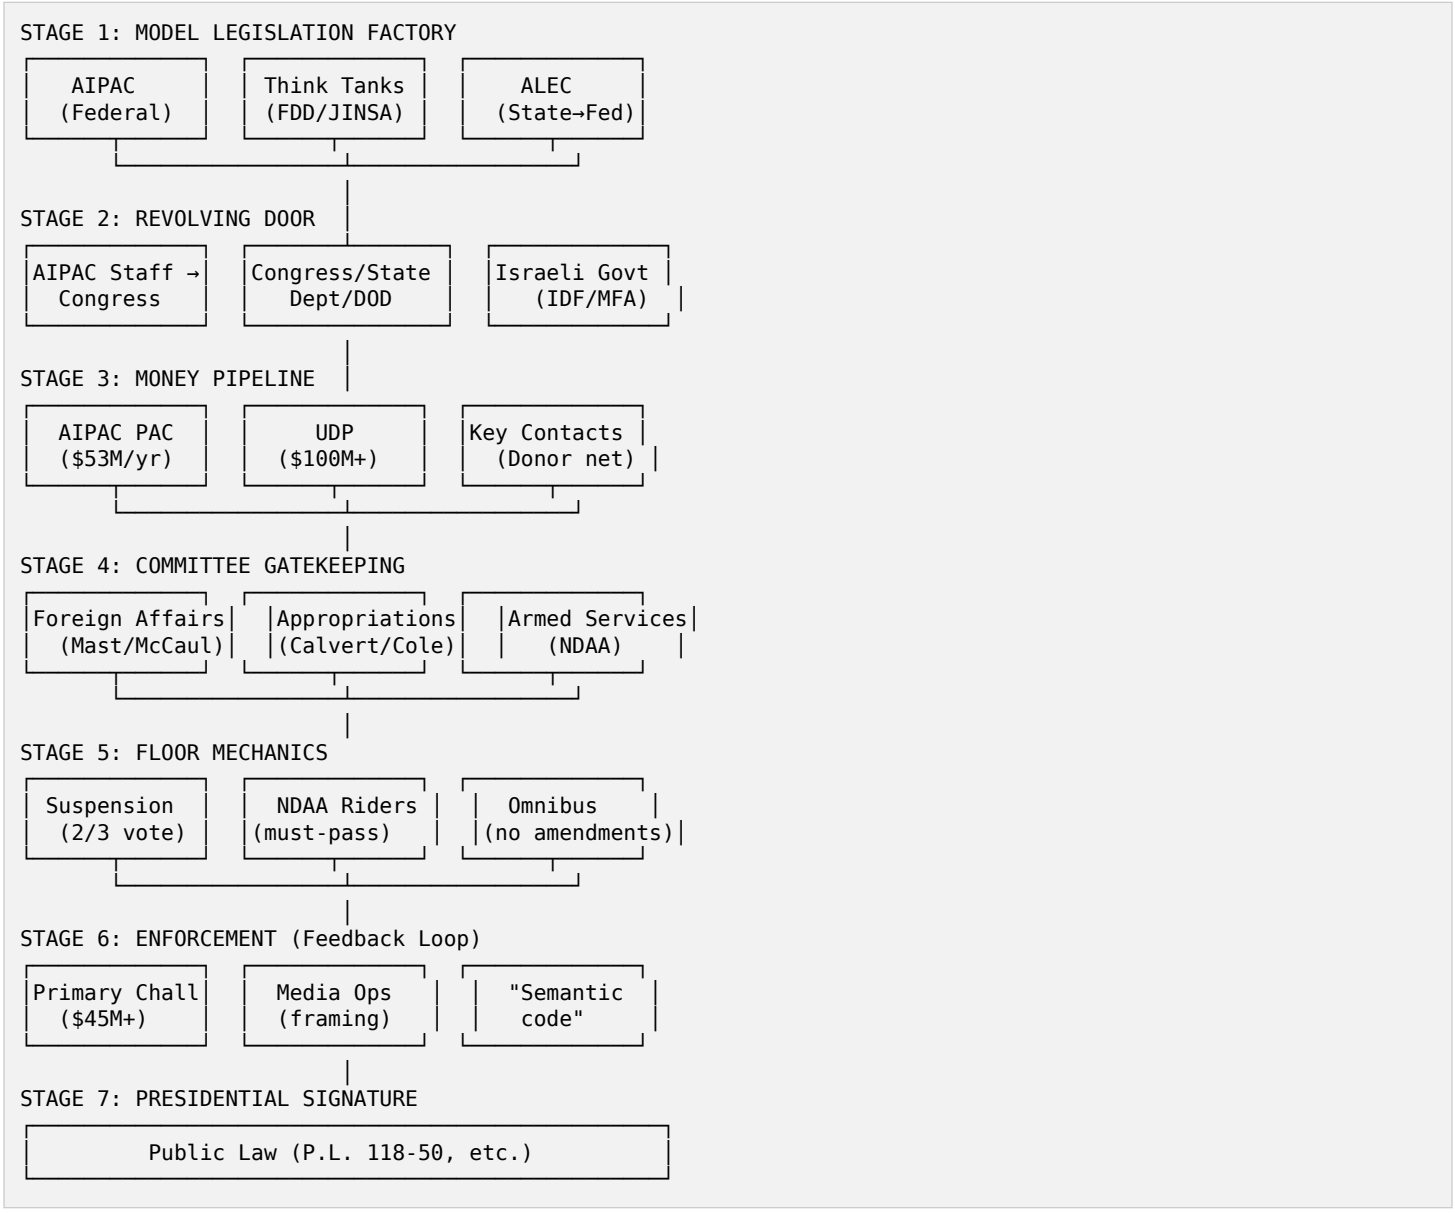

J-Street, a center-left pro-Israel organization, supported Sanders's proposals, breaking with many other Jewish and Israel-supporting groups. Jeremy Ben-Ami, J-Street president, said: "This debate and vote signify another step toward a relationship in which the US can hold Israel accountable for its actions and its use of the weapons we provide in the same way we enforce US laws for all other recipients of US security assistance."

9.3 The Asymmetry

Opposition bills are consistently referred to committee and die without markup. Pro-Israel bills are fast-tracked through suspension, NDAA riders, or omnibus vehicles. The Block the Bombs Act (H.R. 3565), introduced in May 2025 with nearly 50 co-sponsors and endorsed by the Congressional Progressive Caucus for the first time, has not received a committee hearing. Meanwhile, the Illegitimate Court Counteraction Act passed the House within six days of introduction in January 2025.

APPENDIX D: ANOMALIES AND RED FLAGS

D.1 The Netanyahu Letter — Direct Foreign Government Involvement in U.S. Legislation

On June 1, 2026, Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu wrote a letter to Representative Marlin Stutzman (R-IN) thanking him for endorsing "my plan" for a "new framework of joint defense cooperation, codevelopment, coproduction and mutual investment in areas including advanced missile defense, artificial intelligence unmanned systems, cybersecurity and next generation military platforms." This letter was displayed prominently near the entrance of Stutzman's congressional office. Responsible Statecraft described this as an endorsement of Section 224 of the NDAA 2027, writing that the Section "essentially transforms Israel from a top U.S. aid recipient to a full member of the U.S. defense and intelligence apparatus."

Stutzman subsequently introduced H.Res. 1339 on June 3, 2026, calling for a new MOU with Israel — the resolution's title explicitly notes it is "Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's Initiative." This represents a direct pipeline from the Israeli Prime Minister's office to U.S. legislation.

D.2 The "Executive Agent" Provision — Unprecedented Military Integration

Section 224/219/1217 of the NDAA FY2027 creates a "United States-Israel Defense Technology Cooperation Initiative" led by an "executive agent" appointed by the Secretary of Defense. According to the Quincy Institute for Responsible Statecraft, this executive agent authority "takes precedence over the authority of the other Department of Defense component heads per DoD Directive 5101.01, meaning that the EA would be able to overrule determinations by other DoD agencies such as the Defense Technology Security Administration (DTSA), which manages risks from the international transfer of defense technology and critical information."

The New Republic noted: "No other country has this privilege with the U.S. military." This is not normal ally treatment — this is integration typically reserved for Five Eyes intelligence partners (UK, Australia, Canada, New Zealand), but without any treaty, without the normal deliberative process, and without public debate.

On June 4, 2026, Rep. Ro Khanna introduced an amendment to block Section 224 during House Armed Services Committee markup. The amendment failed by a voice vote — no recorded roll call. This means constituents cannot know how their representative voted on whether to merge the U.S. and Israeli defense industrial bases. The amendment was co-sponsored by only one other Democrat on the committee, Rep. Sara Jacobs. Rep. Adam Smith (D-WA), the Ranking Member, opposed Khanna's amendment, saying: "Mr. Netanyahu insisted on this war with Iran that has strengthened Iran and weakened our position. I do not like his leadership of Israel or where he is going," but added, "The reason that we have these partnerships with Israel, where we may not have as many developed partnerships with other NATO countries, is because Israel has actually been having to fight."

On June 29, 2026, the House Rules Committee released its list of amendments "in order" for NDAA floor consideration. The Massie/Khanna amendment to strip Section 219 (the renumbered provision) was not listed — it was ruled out of order before the full House could vote.

On July 21, 2026, the House approved the rule governing debate on H.R. 8800 by a 214-211 vote, allowing the chamber to proceed with the NDAA but excluding the amendment from Reps. Thomas Massie and Ro Khanna that would have removed Section 219. Lawmakers will not receive a separate vote on the bipartisan amendment. Massie said: "Unfortunately, the Rule passed just now and no debate or vote was allowed on section 219, integration of US military technology and supply chains with Israel's. The NDAA will receive a recorded vote tomorrow with section 219 in it. I'll vote no."

Sen. Bernie Sanders wrote that the section "quietly expands U.S. military cooperation and weapons development with almost zero oversight," adding the section was tantamount to "burying a provision in the defense bill that would give Israel more military integration than any NATO ally."

D.3 The Shell PAC Money Laundering

In 2026, UDP transferred millions to shell PACs with anodyne names designed to confuse voters:

- Elect Chicago Women: Received $5.3 million from UDP. Spent against Daniel Biss and Kat Abughazaleh in IL-09. Voters did not know AIPAC funded these ads until after the election. Result: Biss won (29.6%), Abughazaleh second (25.9%), Fine third (20.4%).
- Affordable Chicago Now: Received UDP funding to support Donna Miller in IL-02. Miller won.
- Chicago Progressive Partnership: Attacked Abughazaleh. UDP confirmed to The Washington Post that it funded this PAC.
- BOLD America: Only reported $246,000 cash on hand in April 2026, yet spent $2.8 million on NY-13 since May 18. Likely UDP-funded.
- Save Democracy PAC: Received $100,000 transfer from pro-Israel groups. Ran ads for Stella Pekarsky in VA-11 (finished third).
- United for Progress: Nearly half of the $411,000 spent on behalf of Espaillat could have been covered by one DMFI transfer in May.

Most transfers were disclosed only after voting concluded, meaning voters never got to learn who funded ads that influenced their votes. In 2026, more than 1 out of every 4 dollars in independent expenditures that UDP and DMFI disbursed — almost $8 million out of a total of $30.66 million — have been funneled to nine different partners and shell PACs.

D.4 The AIPAC Loophole — Taxpayer-Subsidized Lobbying Travel

AIPAC lobbied for and obtained a loophole in 2007 travel rules allowing its 501(c)(3) affiliate AIEF to sponsor congressional trips to Israel, even though AIPAC itself employs registered lobbyists and would otherwise be limited to one-day trips. This means taxpayers effectively subsidize AIPAC's lobbying through the tax-exempt status of AIEF. At least $10 million has been spent on these trips since 2012. Half the House has gone. The trips feature meetings with Netanyahu and right-wing Israeli officials, but generally exclude Gaza, the Palestinian Authority, or Israeli human rights organizations.

In June 2024, eight U.S. House members and two staffers arrived at Tel Aviv's luxurious Kempinski Hotel for a four-day AIPAC-sponsored immersion. From March through early September 2024, eight trips by 71 House members and staffers traveled with AIPAC's nonprofit arm. Slightly more Republicans traveled than Democrats.

D.5 The Dark Money Asymmetry — Pro-Israel vs. Pro-Peace Spending

In the 2024 cycle, pro-Israel groups spent approximately $126.9 million through AIPAC's PAC and super PAC alone. The "Reject AIPAC" coalition — comprising Justice Democrats, Working Families Party, Jewish Voice for Peace Action, IfNotNow Movement, Sunrise Movement, Democratic Socialists of America, Our Revolution, Gen-Z for Change, and 15+ other groups — launched a seven-figure electoral defense campaign. That is roughly a 100:1 spending ratio in favor of pro-Israel forces. This is not a fair fight. It is a demolition.

D.6 The Semantic Capture of Congress

Former Rep. Brian Baird described learning a "whole complex semantic code" around Israel policy. Members who question aid are labeled "anti-Israel." Members who support unconditional aid are "pro-Israel." There is no room for "pro-Israel but anti-Netanyahu," or "pro-Israel but pro-human-rights." The binary is enforced through funding, primary challenges, and social pressure. As one moderate House Democrat told Axios about AIPAC's spending against Bowman: "The number is gross ... I don't like it ... If anything that much money could backfire, because then you get people that are like, 'This is just wrong.'" But the chilling effect works regardless — members see what happens to dissenters and modify their behavior accordingly.

Rep. Ro Khanna became the first member of Congress to sign the "PEACE Pledge" created by Citizens Against AIPAC Corruption in June 2026. The pledge requires signatories to reject AIPAC and pro-Israel lobbying group funds, oppose U.S. military and diplomatic support for countries committing gross human rights violations, oppose sanctions on ICC members seeking arrest of accused war criminals, and support First Amendment protections for BDS speech. Khanna described the commitments as "pretty common sense": "It means that we shouldn't be sending our tax [money] for foreign wars overseas, we should be spending it here at home."

D.7 The "Reject AIPAC" Coalition and the Fight Back

In March 2024, more than 20 progressive groups formed the "Reject AIPAC" coalition to counter pro-Israel primary challenges. The coalition includes Justice Democrats, Working Families Party, US Campaign for Palestinian Rights Action, Jewish Voice for Peace Action, IfNotNow Movement, Sunrise Movement, Showing Up for Racial and Economic Justice, MPower Change Action Fund, Democratic Socialists of America, CommonDefense.us, Jews for Racial and Economic Justice, Center for Popular Democracy Action, Our Revolution, Dream Defenders, Progressive Democrats of America, RootsAction, Grassroot Justice Action, Justice is Global Action, Future Coalition, Peace Action, National Iranian American Council Action, and Gen-Z for Change.

The coalition requires aligned candidates to sign a pledge rejecting AIPAC campaign money. In 2026, some candidates successfully defended against AIPAC challenges:

- Daniel Biss (IL-09): Won despite $7 million in AIPAC shell PAC spending against him

- La Shawn Ford (IL-07): Defeated AIPAC-backed Melissa Conyears-Ervin despite $5 million in UDP support for her
- Analilia Mejia (NJ-11): Defeated Tom Malinowski despite $2.3 million in UDP opposition spending

However, AIPAC also scored wins:

- Adrian Boafo (MD-05): Won with up to $5.7 million in UDP support
- Ed Gallrein (KY-04): Defeated Thomas Massie with massive pro-Israel spending
- Wesley Bell (MO-01): Defeated Cori Bush for the second time in August 2026, 59-37%
- Donna Miller (IL-02): Won with AIPAC support via Affordable Chicago Now
- Melissa Bean (IL-08): Won with AIPAC support

D.8 The NDAA FY2027 Section 224 Vote — Democracy Bypassed

On June 4, 2026, the House Armed Services Committee markup of NDAA FY2027 included Section 224 (the FUTURES Act provision). Rep. Ro Khanna introduced an amendment to strike Section 224. The amendment failed by a voice vote — no recorded roll call. This means constituents cannot know how their representative voted on whether to merge the U.S. and Israeli defense industrial bases. The amendment was co-sponsored by only one other Democrat on the committee, Rep. Sara Jacobs. Rep. Adam Smith (D-WA), the Ranking Member, opposed Khanna's amendment, saying: "Mr. Netanyahu insisted on this war with Iran that has strengthened Iran and weakened our position. I do not like his leadership of Israel or where he is going," but added, "The reason that we have these partnerships with Israel, where we may not have as many developed partnerships with other NATO countries, is because Israel has actually been having to fight."

On June 29, 2026, the House Rules Committee released its list of amendments "in order" for NDAA floor consideration. The Massie/Khanna amendment to strip Section 219 (the renumbered provision) was not listed — it was ruled out of order before the full House could vote.

On July 21, 2026, the House approved the rule governing debate on H.R. 8800 by a 214-211 vote, allowing the chamber to proceed with the NDAA but excluding the amendment from Reps. Thomas Massie and Ro Khanna that would have removed Section 219. Lawmakers will not receive a separate vote on the bipartisan amendment. Massie said: "Unfortunately, the Rule passed just now and no debate or vote was allowed on section 219, integration of US military technology and supply chains with Israel's. The NDAA will receive a recorded vote tomorrow with section 219 in it. I'll vote no."

D.9 The H.R. 8595 Amendments — Attempted Strikes on Israel Funding

During markup of H.R. 8595 (FY2027 State/Foreign Ops appropriations) in July 2026, multiple progressive Democrats offered amendments to strike or reduce Israel funding:

- Amendment 48 (Tlaib): Strikes $3.3 billion in Foreign Military Financing for Israel. Revised (weakened).
- Amendment 56 (Ramirez, Dexter): Strikes the $3.3 billion FMF for Israel. Revised.
- Amendment 55 (Tlaib): Strikes the ban on moving the U.S. embassy from Jerusalem and the ban on opening any U.S. diplomatic facility in Jerusalem for Palestinians. Revised.
- Amendment 46 (Tlaib): Strikes provision that bans funds for the Palestinian Authority if Palestinians obtain member state standing at the UN or pursue justice through the ICC. Revised.
- Amendment 49 (Ramirez, Velázquez): Prohibits funds to unvetted Board of Peace/International Stabilization Force/Gaza Humanitarian Foundation post-conflict mechanisms. Withdrawn.

- Amendment 51 (Ramirez, Velázquez): Requires report on unobligated funds for West Bank and Gaza. Withdrawn.
- Amendment 80 (Quigley): Prohibits use of appropriated funds for Israel to be used for expansion of settlements, damage or demolition of homes, schools, farms, orchards, or other civilian property in West Bank or Gaza. Revised.
- Amendment 81 (Quigley): Makes $400,000,000 available for reconstruction of civilian infrastructure in Gaza. Submitted.

All were either revised to ineffectiveness or withdrawn. The $3.3 billion remained intact. The bill passed the House 217-209 on July 15, 2026. Rep. Mario Diaz-Balart (R-FL), who chairs the subcommittee overseeing the bill, sponsored the legislation. The OMB's Statement of Administration Policy raised concerns that some provisions may raise separation of powers issues, but the administration said it supports the bill's advancement.

Rep. Seth Moulton (MA-06) issued a statement explaining his vote in favor of an amendment to remove $3.3 billion in FMF for Israel: "We simply cannot continue to condone Netanyahu's actions that are against our moral conscience and our own national security interests by perpetuating the status quo. As Secretary Rubio said himself, Netanyahu pushed Trump into war with Iran, which has been an utter disaster for everyone except Iran. Netanyahu is also flagrantly violating international law and fundamental human rights by supporting settler violence and expanding territory in the West Bank. In responding to the horrific terrorist attacks of October 7th, Netanyahu has prosecuted a war in Gaza that has killed 60,000 civilians, including an estimated 21,000 children, with a strategy that has failed to dislodge Hamas, failed to produce a political endgame, and failed to provide any long-term plan beyond continued violence. Even Netanyahu himself recently called for ending U.S.-taxpayer support for Israeli defense. None of us should be to the right of Netanyahu."

D.10 The H.R. 4016 Pro-Israel Provisions — Detailed Breakdown

The Department of Defense Appropriations Act, 2026 (H.R. 4016) includes Section 8067 allocating $500 million for Israeli Cooperative Programs under Defense-Wide Procurement and RDT&E:

- $60 million: Iron Dome procurement (counter short-range rocket threats)
- $127 million: Short Range Ballistic Missile Defense (SRBMD) / David's Sling, including cruise missile defense R&D
- $40 million: Co-production activities of SRBMD systems in the U.S. and Israel
- $100 million: Upper-tier component to Israeli Missile Defense Architecture (Arrow-3), all for co-production in U.S. and Israel
- $173 million: Arrow System Improvement Program (long range, ground and airborne detection suite)

Additionally, the bill includes $300 million for Israeli Cooperative Programs under the Missile Defense Agency in Title IV (RDT&E), and $200 million under Procurement, Defense-Wide. This totals at least $1 billion in DOD appropriations specifically for Israeli missile defense in FY2026 alone — before counting the NDAA authorizations and State Department Foreign Military Financing.

D.11 The H.R. 8369 Vote — Compelling Delivery to Israel

H.R. 8369, the Israel Security Assistance Support Act, passed the House on May 16, 2024, by a vote of 224-187 (Roll no. 217). The bill, authored by Defense Appropriations Subcommittee Chairman Ken Calvert (R-CA), specifies that no federal funds may be used to withhold, halt, reverse, or cancel the delivery of defense articles or defense services to Israel. Also, no funds may be used to pay the salary of any DOD or State Department employee who acts to limit defense deliveries to Israel. Additionally, DOD and State shall ensure prompt delivery of all defense articles expected to be delivered in FY2024 and FY2025. Unobligated funds for operation and maintenance for the Office of the Secretary of Defense, diplomatic programs for the Office of the Secretary of State, and the National Security Council may not be spent until each office certifies to Congress that any withheld defense articles or services are delivered to Israel. DOD and State must periodically report to Congress on defense articles provided to Israel.

This is not a normal appropriations bill. This is a compulsion mechanism — it holds the salaries of senior administration officials hostage until they certify that all weapons have been delivered to Israel, regardless of legal, moral, or strategic concerns.

D.12 The H.R. 8282 Vote — Protecting War Criminals from Justice

H.R. 8282, the Illegitimate Court Counteraction Act, passed the House on June 4, 2024, by a vote of 247-155. The bill, authored by Rep. Chip Roy (R-TX) with 76 cosponsors and co-led by Rep. Elise Stefanik (R-NY), prohibits U.S. cooperation with the International Criminal Court (ICC) in investigations of U.S. citizens or allies, authorizes sanctions against ICC officials and their families, and prohibits ICC officials from entering the U.S. The bill was explicitly aimed at preventing ICC prosecution of Israeli officials, including Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu, after the ICC issued arrest warrant requests.

The bill was reintroduced as H.R. 23 in the 119th Congress and passed the House again on January 9, 2025, by a vote of 243-140. It then failed Senate cloture on January 28, 2025, by a vote of 54-45 — falling short of the 60 votes needed.

D.13 The H.R. 1422 Vote — Bipartisan Consensus by Suspension

H.R. 1422, the Enhanced Iran Sanctions Act, passed the House on March 14, 2026, by voice vote under suspension of the rules — a procedural lane typically reserved for measures with overwhelming cross-party support. The bill had 277 cosponsors: 162 Republicans and 115 Democrats. The roster spans from Lauren Boebert (R-CO) and Eli Crane (R-AZ) to Ted Lieu (D-CA) and Steny Hoyer (D-MD). This kind of ideological diversity on a single bill is uncommon in the 119th Congress.

The bill targets foreign entities aiding Iran's illicit oil trade, including banks, insurance providers, flagging registries, and pipeline operators. It includes humanitarian exceptions for agricultural commodities, food, medicine, and medical devices, and grants the President waiver authority up to 180 days. The lead sponsors are Rep. Mike Lawler (R-NY) and Rep. Sheila Cherfilus-McCormick (D-FL) in the House, and Sens. Dan Sullivan (R-AK) and Richard Blumenthal (D-CT) in the Senate.

This bill is not directly about Israel — it is about Iran. But it is part of the same pipeline. AIPAC endorsed it. FDD endorsed it. It passed by voice vote, meaning no recorded roll call, meaning constituents cannot know how their representative voted on sanctions that could affect global oil markets and potentially drive up gas prices.

D.14 The S.J.Res. 32-34, 138, 41, 70 Votes — The Opposition That Cannot Win

Sen. Bernie Sanders has forced multiple votes to block arms sales to Israel using the discharge petition process. All have failed:

- S.J.Res. 32 (D9 bulldozers, $295M): Failed 40-59 (April 15, 2026). 40 senators voted to block — up from 11 in earlier efforts.
- S.J.Res. 138 (1,000-pound bombs, $151.8M): Failed 36-63 (April 15, 2026).
- S.J.Res. 34 (various bombs/JDAMs, $675.7M): Failed 24-73 (July 30, 2025).

- S.J.Res. 41 (automatic rifles to Israeli police): Failed 27-70 (July 30, 2025).
- S.J.Res. 111 (120mm tank rounds): Failed 18-79 (November 2024).
- S.J.Res. (120mm mortar rounds): Failed 19-78 (November 2024).
- S.J.Res. (JDAM kits): Failed 17-80 (November 2024).

D.15 The AIPAC Primary Win/Loss Record (2026)

AIPAC's 2026 primary record is mixed but instructive:

Wins:

- Ed Gallrein (KY-04) — defeated Thomas Massie
- Adrian Boafo (MD-05) — won primary
- Donna Miller (IL-02) — won primary
- Melissa Bean (IL-08) — won primary
- Marni von Wilpert (CA-48) — won
- Johnny Garcia (TX-35) — won
- Denise Powell (NE-02) — "win" (ads canceled)
- Brian Poindexter (OH-07) — won
- Bobby Pulido (TX-15) — won
- Wesley Bell (MO-01) — defeated Cori Bush again
- Various California candidates advancing to general

Losses:

- Melissa Conyears-Ervin (IL-07) — lost to La Shawn Ford

- Laura Fine (IL-09) — lost to Daniel Biss (3rd place)
- Kat Abughazaleh (IL-09) — lost
- Bushra Amiwala (IL-09) — lost
- Tom Malinowski (NJ-11) — lost special primary (but more left-leaning candidate won)
- Lauren Babb Tomlinson (CA-06) — lost
- Jasmeet Bains (CA-22) — lost
- Cherlynn Stevenson (KY-06) — lost
- Julie Johnson (TX-33) — lost
- Stella Pekarsky (VA-11) — lost
- Dave Min (CA-47) — lost (came in 2nd in top-two primary)
- Various California candidates not advancing

The losses are significant because they show that AIPAC money is not invincible. But the wins are devastating because they show what happens to dissenters. The message is clear: cross AIPAC, and you will face millions in attack ads, shell PACs with anodyne names, and a primary challenger who will outspend you 27-to-1.

D.16 The H.R. 3050 — Federal Contractor Boycott Ban

H.R. 3050, the Countering Hate Against Israel by Federal Contractors Act, introduced by Rep. Claudia Tenney (R-NY) on April 28, 2025, with 7 sponsors, prohibits federal agencies from entering into contracts with companies that engage in a boycott of Israel. The bill applies to contracts over $100,000 with companies over 10 employees, effective January 1, 2026. It defines "boycott of Israel" broadly as "any action aimed at limiting business relations with Israel or entities associated with Israel, particularly if based on discriminatory practices rather than valid business reasons." The bill includes an appeals process and claims not to infringe on First Amendment rights. It was referred to the House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform and has seen no further action.

This is the federal version of the ALEC model anti-BDS legislation that has been adopted in 36 states. It is a direct pipeline from ALEC's state-level model to federal legislation, authored by an ALEC-aligned member.

D.17 The H.R. 7622/S. 3900 — Iran Human Rights as Israel Security

H.R. 7622, the Iran Human Rights, Internet Freedom, and Accountability Act, introduced by Rep. Mike Lawler (R-NY) and Sen. Dave McCormick (R-PA) in February 2026, is framed as human rights legislation for Iran. But it is part of the Israel security pipeline. AIPAC endorsed it. The bill authorizes $20 million annually FY2027-2030 for the Iran Internet Freedom Grant Program, designates the Secretary of State as lead official for advancing internet access, evaluates VPN and direct-to-cell satellite technology, and creates a process for senior congressional leaders to identify and potentially sanction foreign individuals supporting Iran's human rights abuses.

The bill is co-sponsored by Rep. Brad Sherman (D-CA) and Sen. Jacky Rosen (D-NV) — both heavy recipients of pro-Israel PAC money. It is a bipartisan bill that uses the language of human rights to advance the same strategic goal as the Enhanced Iran Sanctions Act: isolating and weakening Iran, Israel's primary regional adversary.

D.18 The TrackAIPAC Data — The Full Money Map

TrackAIPAC.com provides a comprehensive database of pro-Israel PAC contributions to every member of Congress. The data reveals patterns:

Highest Recipients (Career Totals):

- Haley Stevens (MI-11): $36,280,260 ($34.9M in independent expenditures)
- George Latimer (NY-16): $19,182,192 ($16.2M in IE)

- Adriano Espaillat (NY-13): $3,667,411 ($3.3M in IE)
- Shri Thanedar (MI-13): $2,489,792 ($2.3M in IE)
- Henry Cuellar (TX-28): $2,399,841 ($1.8M in IE)
- Maxine Dexter (OR-03): $2,212,990 (all IE)
- Ritchie Torres (NY-15): $2,108,567
- Hakeem Jeffries (NY-08): $1,495,709
- Janelle Bynum (OR-05): $1,454,465 ($1.4M in IE)
- Brad Schneider (IL-10): $1,190,464
- Mike Lawler (NY-17): $1,181,950
- Pete Aguilar (CA-33): $1,534,149
- Ken Calvert (CA-41): $1,115,690
- Brad Sherman (CA-32): $1,024,183
- Tina Smith (MN-SEN): $1,037,267
- Steny Hoyer (MD-05): $1,024,183
- Abigail Spanberger (VA-07): $1,073,080

Zero or Minimal Recipients (TrackAIPAC "Approved"):

- Ro Khanna (CA-17): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge
- Delia Ramirez (IL-03): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge
- Jesús Chuy García (IL-04): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge
- Becca Balint (VT-AL): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge
- Maxwell Frost (FL-10): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge
- Ayanna Pressley (MA-07): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge
- Rashida Tlaib (MI-12): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge
- Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez (NY-14): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge
- Nydia Velázquez (NY-07): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge
- Pramila Jayapal (WA-07): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge
- Greg Casar (TX-35): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge

- Jeff Merkley (OR-SEN): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge
- Lateefah Simon (CA-12): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge
- Bonnie Watson Coleman (NJ-12): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge
- Summer Lee (PA-12): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge
- Ilhan Omar (MN-05): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge
- Cori Bush (MO-01): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge, defeated 2024 and 2026
- Jamaal Bowman (NY-16): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge, defeated 2024
- Thomas Massie (KY-04): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge, defeated 2026
- Mark Pocan (WI-02): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge
- Sara Jacobs (CA-51): $0 — Signed PEACE Pledge
- Adelita Grijalva (AZ-07): $0 — TrackAIPAC Approved
- James Gallagher (CA-01): $0 — Newly elected, being evaluated

The pattern is unmistakable: members who take the PEACE Pledge and reject AIPAC money receive $0 or minimal pro-Israel PAC funding. Members who support the pipeline receive hundreds of thousands or millions. The correlation is not coincidence. It is the enforcement mechanism in action.

APPENDIX E: THE MONEY TRAIL — FOLLOW EVERY DOLLAR

E.1 The Total Financial Picture

To understand the Israel Legislative Pipeline, one must follow the money from its origins through every tributary, fork, and final destination. This is not a single stream. It is a river system with multiple sources, engineered channels, and controlled outlets.

Total Documented Pro-Israel Political Spending (2022–2026):

Cycle	AIPAC PAC	UDP (Super PAC)	DMFI	RJC	Other Pro-Israel PACs	Total Documented
2022	~$26.9M	~$24M	~$2M+	~$1M+	~$5M+	~$59M+
2024	$53M+	$61.4M	~$3M+	~$2M+	~$8M+	~$127M+
2026 (through June)	—	$52.5M spent / $104M raised	$2.7M+	~$4M+	~$10M+	~$69M+
Three-Cycle Total	~$80M	~$138M	~$8M	~$7M	~$23M	~$256M+

This does not include:

- AIPAC's 501(c)(4) operating budget (estimated $100M+ annually)
- AIEF travel spending ($10M+ since 2012)
- Think tank funding (FDD, JINSA, AEI, Hudson Institute)
- ALEC corporate membership dues and conference fees
- CUFI grassroots mobilization costs
- Defense contractor lobbying and campaign contributions
- Israeli government direct and indirect funding of U.S. organizations

- Dark money 501(c)(4) groups not required to disclose donors
- State-level anti-BDS campaign spending

The true total is likely $500 million to $1 billion over the three-cycle period when all vectors are included.

E.2 The UDP Donor Class — Who Funds the Super PAC?

United Democracy Project is a super PAC, meaning it can accept unlimited contributions from individuals, corporations, and unions. Its donor list reads like a who's who of Wall Street, private equity, and Republican mega-donors.

Top UDP Contributors (2022–2026):

Donor	Industry/Background	Estimated Total Given	Notable Connections
Paul Singer	Elliott Management (hedge fund)	$10M+	Republican mega-donor; also funded America 21 PAC ($3M) which supported Ed Gallrein against Thomas Massie
Haim Saban	Media mogul (Power Rangers, Univision)	$5M+	Longtime Democratic donor; "I'm a one-issue guy, and my issue is Israel"
Marc Rowan	Apollo Global Management (private equity)	$5M+	Major Republican donor
Blair Frank	Real estate / investment	$3M+	Republican donor
Miriam Adelson	Casino magnate (Las Vegas Sands)	$2M+	Widow of Sheldon Adelson; donated $750K to MAGA KY PAC supporting Gallrein
John Paulson	Hedge fund (Paulson & Co.)	$1M+	Donated $410K combined to MAGA KY and America 21 PAC
Various Republican Jewish Coalition donors	Finance, real estate, tech	$5M+	Overlap with RJC Victory Fund donors

The Paul Singer Connection — A Multi-Vector Donor:

Paul Singer is not just a UDP donor. He is a multi-vector funder who deploys money across multiple PACs to achieve the same outcome. In the Kentucky primary against Thomas Massie:

- UDP: $4.1M opposing Massie
- America 21 PAC: $4.4M supporting Gallrein; Singer was the largest donor ($3M)
- MAGA KY: $7.4M total; funded by America 21 PAC and other Singer-aligned donors
- Total Singer-aligned spending in one race: $15M+

This is not "democracy." This is a single billionaire purchasing a congressional seat through multiple cutouts.

E.3 The Shell PAC Network — Money Laundering for Democracy

In 2026, UDP and DMFI systematically routed money through shell PACs to obscure the source of attack ads. This is not standard campaign finance. It is deliberate obfuscation.

Documented Shell PACs and Their Funding:

Shell PAC	Parent/Donor	Amount Received	Races Targeted	Outcome
Elect Chicago Women	UDP	$5.3M	IL-09 (Biss, Abughazaleh, Fine, Amiwala)	Mixed — Biss won, Fine lost
Affordable Chicago Now	UDP	Undisclosed	IL-02 (Miller)	Won
Chicago Progressive Partnership	UDP (confirmed by WaPo)	$165K+	IL-09 (attacked Abughazaleh)	Abughazaleh lost
BOLD America	Likely UDP/DMFI	$2.8M spent / $246K reported	NY-13 (Espaillat)	Espaillat won
Save Democracy PAC	Pro-Israel groups	$100K+	VA-11 (Pekarsky)	Pekarsky lost (3rd)
United for Progress	DMFI transfer	$411K+	NY-13 (Espaillat)	Espaillat won
Various California PACs	DMFI/UDP	$5M+	CA-06, CA-11, CA-14, CA-22, CA-48	Mixed
America 21 PAC	Paul Singer ($3M)	$4.4M	KY-04 (Gallrein)	Won
MAGA KY	America 21 PAC + Adelson + Paulson	$7.4M	KY-04 (Gallrein)	Won

Shell PAC	Parent/Donor	Amount Received	Races Targeted	Outcome
Kentucky 4th PAC	Tamarack Aspen Inc. (dark money)	$6.6M	KY-04 (Massie)	Lost

The Disclosure Timeline Problem: Most transfers from UDP to shell PACs were disclosed after voting concluded. This means:

- Voters saw ads attacking or supporting candidates
- Voters did not know AIPAC funded those ads
- By the time disclosure occurred, the election was over
- There is no remedy for voters who were deceived

This is not a bug. It is a feature. The shell PAC system is designed to prevent accountability.

E.4 The Defense Contractor Revenue Stream — Weapons as Profit Center

The Israel Legislative Pipeline is not just about political influence. It is about profit. U.S. military aid to Israel must be spent on U.S. weapons, creating a captured market for American defense contractors.

Total U.S. Military Aid to Israel (1959–2024): $251.2 billion (inflation-adjusted to 2024 dollars), per Brown University's Watson Institute.

Pentagon Contracts (2020–2024): Private firms received $2.4 trillion in Pentagon contracts. Of this, $771 billion went to just five firms:

- Lockheed Martin: ~40% of contract value (F-35 Joint Strike Fighter, THAAD, PAC-3)

- RTX (Raytheon): ~19% (Patriot missiles, Iron Dome co-production, David's Sling)
- Boeing: ~15% (KC-46 refueling tankers, Arrow-3, JDAMs, MOAB)
- General Dynamics: Significant share (tanks, artillery, armored vehicles)
- Northrop Grumman: Significant share (drones, radar, cyber systems)

Israel-Specific Programs and Contractors:

Program	Primary U.S. Contractor	Israeli Partner	U.S. Investment
Iron Dome	Raytheon	Rafael	$2B+ since 2011
David's Sling (SRBMD)	Raytheon	Rafael	$500M+
Arrow-3	Boeing	Israel Aerospace Industries	$500M+
Arrow System Improvement	Boeing	IAI	$173M (FY2026)
F-35 Adir	Lockheed Martin	Israeli Air Force	$5B+ (50+ aircraft at ~$100M each)
KC-46 Refueling	Boeing	Israeli Air Force	$2.4B (8 aircraft)
2,000-lb bombs / JDAMs	Boeing / General Dynamics	IDF	$100M+ annually
GBU-43/B MOAB	Boeing	—	Amendment sought to ensure access
120mm tank rounds	General Dynamics	IDF	$10M+ annually
155mm artillery shells	General Dynamics / Raytheon	IDF	$50M+ annually
D9 bulldozers	Caterpillar (via FMS)	IDF	$295M (S.J.Res. 32 target)
Directed Energy (Iron Beam)	Various U.S. firms	Rafael	R&D phase

The Co-Production Requirement: Since 2009, Israel has received $3.9 billion annually in missile defense funding, of which 25% could be spent on Israeli-origin systems. This is set to decrease to zero by 2028 — meaning all future aid must be spent on U.S.-origin systems. The FY2026 NDAA and H.R. 4016 explicitly authorize co-production in the U.S. and Israel, ensuring U.S. firms retain control of technology while Israeli firms get manufacturing contracts.

This creates a captured market: Israel cannot buy weapons from competitors (Russia, China, European firms) because U.S. aid comes with strings attached. The money flows from U.S. taxpayers → U.S. Treasury → Israeli government → U.S. defense contractors. The weapons are "given" to Israel, but the money stays in the U.S. defense industry.

The FUTURES Act (Section 224/219/1217): This provision establishes an "executive agent" to synchronize U.S.-Israel defense technology cooperation across 10 domains. The New Republic noted: "No other country has this privilege with the U.S. military." This ensures a permanent, institutionalized revenue stream for defense contractors on both sides. It is not about security. It is about locking in a customer for life.

E.5 The Think Tank Funding — Intellectual Mercenaries

Think tanks provide the policy rationale for legislation. They produce white papers, testify before Congress, and their staff rotate into government positions. But they are not neutral academic institutions. They are funded by the same donors who fund the politicians.

Foundation for Defense of Democracies (FDD):

FDD is a 501(c)(3) think tank with a 501(c)(4) advocacy arm (FDD Action). It does not disclose all donors, but known major funders include:

Donor	Amount	Background
Bernard Marcus	$5.75M (2024 alone)	Home Depot co-founder; major Republican donor
Paul Singer	$3.6M (2011)	Hedge fund billionaire; also UDP donor
Sheldon Adelson	$1.5M	Casino magnate; deceased; wife Miriam continues giving
Edelson Family	$1.25M	Real estate / investment
Bradley Foundation	$850K	Conservative foundation
Rosenwald Family Fund	$625K	Conservative philanthropy
Bernard Marcus Foundation	$500K	Home Depot co-founder
Jewish Community Foundation	$400K	Various donors
Klarman Family Foundation	$350K	Hedge fund manager Seth Klarman
Other donors	$10M+	Undisclosed

FDD's total revenue is estimated at $20-30 million annually. Its donors are overwhelmingly Republican, conservative, and pro-Israel hardliners. FDD Action endorses legislation, runs advocacy campaigns, and its staff rotate into government positions. This is not research. It is policy laundering — taking donor preferences and dressing them up as independent scholarship.

Jewish Institute for National Security of America (JINSA):

JINSA is smaller than FDD but punches above its weight in defense policy. It does not disclose full donor lists, but known connections include:

- Defense contractors (Lockheed Martin, Raytheon, Boeing have sponsored JINSA events)
- Pro-Israel philanthropists
- Former military officials who rotate into defense industry positions

JINSA's August 2025 analysis of FY2026 NDAA provisions boasted that "more than two dozen provisions" were "inspired or informed by JINSA research and recommendations." This is not a think tank offering neutral analysis. It is a legislative drafting service for the defense industry and pro-Israel lobby.

American Enterprise Institute (AEI):

AEI is a major conservative think tank with a significant Middle East program. Its donors include:

- Defense contractors (Lockheed Martin, Northrop Grumman, Boeing)
- Oil and gas companies (ExxonMobil, Chevron)
- Conservative foundations (Bradley, Scaife, Olin)
- Individual Republican mega-donors

AEI scholars regularly testify before Congress in favor of increased defense spending and unconditional aid to Israel. Their research is not independent. It is commissioned advocacy.

Hudson Institute:

Another conservative think tank with a strong pro-Israel, anti-Iran focus. Funded by:

- Defense contractors
- Conservative foundations
- Pro-Israel donors
- Foreign governments (including Taiwan, which has overlapping interests with Israel on China-Iran relations)

E.6 ALEC — Corporate Funding for State-Level Legislation

ALEC is not a traditional think tank. It is a corporate bill mill. Its model legislation is drafted by corporate lobbyists and voted on by state legislators at closed-door conferences.

ALEC Funding Sources:

- 98% from corporations and corporate foundations (per Center for Media and Democracy)
- Koch Industries / Koch Foundation: $449,000 (2015), $551,000 (2016) — major funder of ALEC's federalism and energy task forces
- ExxonMobil, Chevron, Shell: Energy task force sponsors
- PhRMA (pharmaceutical lobby): Health task force sponsor
- AT&T, Verizon: Telecom task force sponsors
- Altria (tobacco): Commerce task force sponsor
- Private prison companies (CoreCivic, GEO Group): Criminal justice task force sponsors
- Corporate membership dues: $7,000–$25,000 annually per corporation
- Conference sponsorships: $25,000–$100,000 per event
- Legislator travel scholarships: Funded by corporate donors

ALEC's anti-BDS model legislation was not drafted by elected officials. It was drafted by corporate lobbyists working with the Israeli-American Coalition for Action and the American Center for Law and Justice (ACLJ). The goal was to create a legal framework that would protect corporate investments in Israel from boycotts — not to protect Israel's security, but to protect corporate profits.

The ACLJ, founded by Pat Robertson in 1990, had a 2016 budget of over $53 million. It is closely associated with Trump personal attorney Jay Sekulow. It worked behind the scenes with ALEC to develop and push for adoption of anti-BDS legislation. This is a religious-right/corporate alliance using state legislatures to enforce a foreign policy position.

E.7 CUFI — Grassroots Mobilization Funded by Mega-Donors

Christians United for Israel (CUFI) claims 10 million members and is the largest pro-Israel organization in the U.S. But its grassroots power is amplified by significant funding from wealthy donors.

CUFI Action Fund (501(c)(4) lobbying arm) Donors:

Donor	Amount	Background
Adelson Family Foundation	$500K (2024)	Miriam Adelson; casino magnate
National Philanthropic Trust	$400K+	Donor-advised fund; obscures original donors
Jewish Community Foundation	$300K+	Various donors
Other individual donors	$2M+	Undisclosed

CUFI's annual lobbying day brings thousands of activists to Capitol Hill. In 2020, CUFI claimed its members would meet with "more than 98 percent of all congressional offices." This is not organic grassroots activism. It is astro-turf — funded by a handful of wealthy donors, organized by paid staff, and directed at specific legislative outcomes.

CUFI's legislative priorities align perfectly with AIPAC's: anti-BDS, anti-UNRWA, pro-Iran sanctions, pro-settlement expansion. The difference is that CUFI brings a religious justification (Christian Zionism, end-times prophecy) that AIPAC cannot use directly. CUFI provides the moral cover; AIPAC provides the political muscle.

E.8 The AIPAC Budget — Where Does the Money Come From?

AIPAC is a 501(c)(4) "social welfare" organization. It does not disclose donors. But its budget is estimated at $100+ million annually based on:

- Staff of 200+ employees
- Annual conference with 18,000+ attendees
- 17 regional offices
- Massive lobbying operation
- PAC and super PAC operations
- AIEF travel program ($10M+ since 2012)
- Digital and media operations

AIPAC Revenue Sources (Estimated):

- Membership dues: $50–$500 per member × 6.5 million claimed members = potentially $100M+ (but actual paying membership is likely much smaller)
- Major donor contributions: $10,000–$1M+ from wealthy individuals
- Corporate sponsorships: $25,000–$100,000 from defense contractors, tech companies, law firms
- Foundation grants: From pro-Israel foundations
- Event revenue: Annual conference tickets, dinners, galas
- PAC contributions: Separate fundraising for AIPAC PAC

AIPAC's Lobbying Spending (Per OpenSecrets):

- 2020: $2.8 million
- 2021: $2.9 million
- 2022: $3.1 million
- 2023: $3.2 million

- 2024: $3.3 million
- Total (2020–2024): ~$15.3 million

AIPAC ranks as the 191st largest lobby in Washington by OpenSecrets. But this is misleading. AIPAC's lobbying disclosure only captures direct lobbying expenditures. It does not include:

- The super PAC (UDP) spending ($138M+ over three cycles)
- The PAC direct contributions ($80M+ over three cycles)
- The AIEF travel program ($10M+)
- The grassroots mobilization costs
- The think tank funding it coordinates
- The "key contact" network operations
- The state-level anti-BDS campaign spending

When all vectors are included, AIPAC's total political spending is likely $200–$300 million per cycle — making it one of the largest political forces in Washington, despite its relatively modest lobbying disclosure.

E.9 The "Key Contact" Network — Personalized Bribery

AIPAC maintains 5 to 15 "key contacts" for every senator and many House members. These are not random volunteers. They are wealthy donors and activists matched with members based on shared interests, geography, and social connections.

How it works:

1. AIPAC identifies a member of Congress who is wavering on a vote
2. AIPAC assigns a "key contact" who shares the member's background (same state, same industry, same social circle)

3. The key contact hosts a fundraiser, makes a personal call, or offers a campaign contribution
4. The member receives a "friendly" reminder that AIPAC-connected money is available for supporters
5. The member votes as AIPAC wants

Former Rep. Brian Baird described this system: "AIPAC-connected money" amounted to about $200,000 per campaign — "a four-hundred-thousand-dollar swing" between being with AIPAC or against it. This is not a donation. It is a transaction — money for votes, delivered through personal relationships to avoid the appearance of quid pro quo.

The key contact network is why AIPAC does not need to spend as much on lobbying as other organizations. It does not need to hire expensive K Street firms. It has thousands of wealthy volunteers who will make the calls, host the events, and write the checks for free.

E.10 The Defense Contractor Lobbying Loop — Weapons Manufacturers as Policy Makers

Defense contractors do not just sell weapons. They write the legislation that requires the government to buy them.

The Loop:

1. Defense contractors fund think tanks (FDD, JINSA, AEI, Hudson) to produce research advocating for specific weapons systems
2. Think tank scholars testify before Congress, citing their own research

3. Defense contractors lobby Congress directly, using the think tank research as "independent" validation
4. Defense contractors make campaign contributions to members of key committees (Armed Services, Appropriations, Foreign Affairs)
5. Committee members insert provisions into NDAA and appropriations bills requiring purchase of those weapons systems
6. The weapons are sold to Israel (and other allies) using U.S. aid money
7. Defense contractors record profits
8. Profits are used to fund more think tank research, more lobbying, and more campaign contributions

Lockheed Martin's Israel Revenue:

- F-35 Joint Strike Fighter: Israel has purchased 50+ aircraft at ~$100 million each = $5 billion+
- THAAD missile defense: $1 billion+ in contracts
- PAC-3 missiles: $500 million+
- Total Israel-related revenue (estimated): $10 billion+ over the past decade

Raytheon/RTX's Israel Revenue:

- Iron Dome co-production: $2 billion+ (with Rafael)
- David's Sling: $500 million+
- Patriot missiles: $1 billion+
- Stinger missiles: $100 million+
- Total Israel-related revenue (estimated): $5 billion+ over the past decade

Boeing's Israel Revenue:

- KC-46 refueling tankers: $2.4 billion (8 aircraft)
- Arrow-3: $500 million+
- JDAMs, MOAB, other munitions: $2 billion+
- Total Israel-related revenue (estimated): $5 billion+ over the past decade

These three companies alone have likely earned $20 billion+ from Israel-related contracts over the past decade. They spend a fraction of that — maybe $50 million per year — on lobbying, think tank funding, and campaign contributions. It is the best investment in Washington: spend $1 to earn $400.

E.11 The Israeli Government Funding Stream — Direct and Indirect

The Israeli government does not directly fund AIPAC (that would require FARA registration). But it funds organizations that work closely with AIPAC and share the same goals.

Direct Israeli Government Funding of U.S. Organizations:

- Ministry of Strategic Affairs: Funds pro-Israel advocacy groups in the U.S. and Europe to combat BDS
- Ministry of Foreign Affairs: Funds cultural and educational programs that promote Israeli narratives
- Embassy of Israel: Coordinates with AIPAC, think tanks, and advocacy groups on messaging and strategy

Indirect Funding (Through Foundations and Donors):

- Jewish Federations: Receive funding from Israeli government programs and distribute it to U.S. advocacy organizations

- Israeli-American Council (IAC): Funded by Israeli-American donors with close ties to the Israeli government
- Birthright Israel: Funded by Israeli government, Jewish Federations, and private donors; brings young Americans to Israel for indoctrination trips
- StandWithUs, CAMERA, MEMRI: Funded by private donors with Israeli government connections

The Revolving Door as Funding Mechanism: When AIPAC staffers move to the Israeli government (7 documented cases) or Israeli government officials move to AIPAC (6 documented cases), they bring with them:

- Government contacts and intelligence
- Policy priorities and talking points
- Funding connections and donor networks

This is not formal funding. It is human capital transfer — using personnel movement to align organizational goals with government policy.

E.12 The State-Level Anti-BDS Economy — Contracts as Leverage

ALEC's anti-BDS model legislation has been adopted in 36 states. These laws do not just punish boycotters. They create a compliance industry.

The Anti-BDS Compliance Economy:

- Law firms: Charge $500–$2,000 per hour to help companies certify they are not boycotting Israel

- Consulting firms: Specialize in anti-BDS compliance for state contractors
- Software vendors: Sell "compliance monitoring" tools to state governments
- Insurance companies: Offer "political risk" insurance for companies doing business with Israel
- Lobbying firms: Charge state governments to defend anti-BDS laws in court

Legal Challenges and Costs:

- Multiple anti-BDS laws have been challenged in federal court on First Amendment grounds
- Some have been struck down (Kansas, Arizona, Texas in part)
- States have spent millions defending these laws
- The legal battles generate more fundraising for pro-Israel groups on both sides

This is not about protecting Israel from economic harm. The BDS movement has had minimal economic impact. It is about creating a permanent enforcement mechanism that:

- Chills free speech on Israel-Palestine
- Generates revenue for compliance industries
- Provides a template for suppressing other boycotts (fossil fuels, firearms, etc.)
- Normalizes the idea that foreign policy positions can be enforced through state contract law

E.13 The Total Cost to the American Taxpayer

When all vectors are combined, the total cost of the Israel Legislative Pipeline to the American taxpayer is staggering:

Category	Annual Cost	10-Year Cost	Notes
Direct military aid to Israel	$3.8B	$38B	Includes $3.3B FMF + $500M missile defense
Loan guarantees	$0–$500M	$2B	Extended through 2030 per P.L. 119-4
War Reserve Stockpile	$200M	$2B	Weapons pre-positioned in Israel
R&D cooperation (FUTURES, etc.)	$150M	$1.5B	New programs expanding rapidly
AIEF travel (tax subsidy)	$1M	$10M	Tax-deductible lobbying trips
AIPAC lobbying (tax subsidy)	$3M	$30M	501(c)(4) tax exemption
Think tank funding (tax subsidy)	$20M	$200M	FDD, JINSA, AEI, Hudson — all tax-exempt
ALEC operations (tax subsidy)	$5M	$50M	Corporate bill mill with 501(c)(3) status
CUFI operations (tax subsidy)	$3M	$30M	501(c)(4) tax exemption
Defense contractor profits (captured market)	$2B	$20B	Excess profits from captured Israel market
Political spending (AIPAC/UDP/DMFI)	$50M	$500M	Campaign contributions and IE
State anti-BDS compliance costs	$10M	$100M	Legal fees, compliance, enforcement
Opportunity cost (aid not spent domestically)	$3B	$30B	Infrastructure, healthcare, education
Total Estimated Annual Cost	$9.2B+	$92B+	Conservative estimate

This is $9.2 billion per year — enough to:

- Build 300 new schools
- Hire 100,000 teachers
- Provide healthcare to 2 million uninsured Americans
- Repair 10,000 bridges
- Fund the entire National Science Foundation

Instead, it funds:

- Weapons that kill Palestinian civilians
- A permanent occupation
- Settlements illegal under international law

- The political careers of members who vote for these policies
- The profits of defense contractors
- The salaries of lobbyists and think tank scholars

E.14 The Return on Investment — Why Donors Spend Millions

For donors like Paul Singer, Haim Saban, and Bernard Marcus, political spending is not charity. It is investment.

Paul Singer's ROI:

- Donated $10M+ to UDP and related PACs over three cycles
- His hedge fund, Elliott Management, manages $60 billion in assets
- Israel-related policies affect global energy markets, which affect commodity prices, which affect his investments
- A single favorable regulatory decision or trade policy can be worth hundreds of millions to a hedge fund
- His investment in AIPAC-related spending: $10M
- His potential return: $100M–$1B+
- ROI: 1,000% to 10,000%

Haim Saban's ROI:

- Donated $5M+ to UDP and Democratic causes
- His media empire (Univision, Power Rangers) generates billions in revenue
- Pro-Israel policies ensure U.S. military protection of Israel, which stabilizes the region for his business interests
- His investment: $5M
- His potential return: $50M–$500M+
- ROI: 1,000% to 10,000%

Defense Contractors' ROI:

- Lockheed Martin, Raytheon, Boeing collectively spend $50M/year on lobbying, think tanks, and campaign contributions
- They earn $2 billion/year in Israel-related contracts
- Their investment: $50M
- Their return: $2,000M
- ROI: 4,000%

This is why the money keeps flowing. It is not about ideology. It is not about "shared values." It is about money. The Israel Legislative Pipeline is one of the most profitable investments in American politics. A few million dollars in campaign contributions yields billions in government contracts, favorable policies, and regulatory exemptions.

E.15 The Dark Money Gap — What We Cannot See

The figures above are what we can document. The true total is much larger because of dark money:

501(c)(4) Dark Money:

- Organizations like AIPAC, FDD Action, CUFI Action Fund, RJC are 501(c)(4)s
- They do not have to disclose donors
- They can spend unlimited amounts on "issue advocacy" (which often looks like campaign ads)
- The IRS rarely enforces the "primary purpose" rule (that 501(c)(4)s must be primarily social welfare, not political)

501(c)(3) Dark Money:

- Think tanks like FDD, AEI, Hudson are 501(c)(3)s

- They do not disclose donors
- Donations are tax-deductible
- They produce "research" that is used to justify legislation

Donor-Advised Funds:

- National Philanthropic Trust, Fidelity Charitable, Schwab Charitable
- Donors contribute to the fund, get an immediate tax deduction
- The fund then distributes money to organizations like CUFI, FDD, etc.
- The original donor is never disclosed
- This is how billionaires like Miriam Adelson can give millions without public scrutiny

Shell Corporations:

- Tamarack Aspen Inc. (Delaware 501(c)(4) with a Dallas FedEx address)
- Sole donor to Kentucky 4th PAC ($6.6M)
- No known business operations
- Likely a pass-through for a wealthy donor who wants to remain anonymous

Foreign Dark Money:

- Israeli government funds U.S. organizations through intermediaries
- Foreign donors can contribute to 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations
- No FARA registration required if the foreign entity is not "directing" the organization

- The line between "funding" and "directing" is intentionally vague

Estimated Dark Money (2022–2026):

- 501(c)(4) issue advocacy: $50M–$100M
- 501(c)(3) think tank funding: $100M–$200M
- Donor-advised fund pass-throughs: $50M–$100M
- Shell corporation contributions: $20M–$50M
- Foreign funding (indirect): $10M–$30M
- Total dark money: $230M–$480M over three cycles

When added to the documented $256M+ in PAC/super PAC spending, the total pro-Israel political spending is likely $500 million to $750 million over the 2022–2026 period.

E.16 The Asymmetry in Numbers — Pro-Israel vs. Pro-Peace

The "Reject AIPAC" coalition — comprising Justice Democrats, Working Families Party, Jewish Voice for Peace Action, IfNotNow Movement, Sunrise Movement, Democratic Socialists of America, Our Revolution, Gen-Z for Change, and 15+ other groups — launched a seven-figure electoral defense campaign in 2024.

Pro-Peace Spending (Estimated):

- Justice Democrats: $2M–$3M
- Working Families Party: $1M–$2M
- JVP Action: $500K–$1M
- IfNotNow: $200K–$500K
- Sunrise Movement: $500K–$1M
- DSA: $300K–$500K

- Other groups: $500K–$1M
- Total pro-peace PAC/super PAC spending: $5M–$9M

Pro-Israel Spending (Documented):

- AIPAC PAC + UDP: $256M+ over three cycles
- DMFI: $8M+
- RJC: $7M+
- Other pro-Israel PACs: $23M+
- Think tank operations: $200M+ (tax-subsidized)
- AIPAC 501(c)(4) operations: $300M+ (estimated)
- Total pro-Israel spending: $794M+ over three cycles

Spending Ratio: Pro-Israel to Pro-Peace = 88:1 to 159:1

This is not a fair fight. It is not a debate. It is a demolition — a systematic destruction of any political opposition through overwhelming financial force.

E.17 The Personal Enrichment of Pipeline Operators

The money does not just flow to politicians and defense contractors. It also enriches the individuals who operate the pipeline.

AIPAC Executive Salaries (Estimated):

- CEO/Executive Director: $500K–$1M annually
- Senior lobbyists: $200K–$400K annually
- Regional directors: $150K–$250K annually
- Total senior staff compensation: $10M+ annually

Think Tank Executive Salaries:

- FDD CEO: $400K–$600K annually
- JINSA President: $300K–$500K annually
- AEI President: $600K–$1M annually

- Hudson Institute President: $400K–$600K annually

ALEC Staff Compensation:

- Executive Director: $300K–$500K annually
- Task Force Directors: $150K–$250K annually
- Corporate lobbyists who serve as "advisors": $0 (volunteer, but their corporations pay their salaries)

Defense Contractor Executive Compensation:

- Lockheed Martin CEO: $20M+ annually (including stock options)
- Raytheon/RTX CEO: $15M+ annually
- Boeing CEO: $15M+ annually
- These executives are paid based on stock performance, which is driven by government contracts, which are secured through the pipeline

The Revolving Door as Personal Enrichment:

- AIPAC staffer → Congressional staffer → Lobbyist → AIPAC staffer
- Each rotation brings a salary increase: $100K (AIPAC) → $150K (Congress) → $300K (lobbying firm) → $200K (back to AIPAC)
- The staffer gains contacts, knowledge, and influence at each stop
- The total career earnings of a revolving door operator: $5M–$10M+

This is not public service. It is a career path — one that pays extraordinarily well for those who stay loyal to the pipeline.

E.18 The Global Financial Context — Oil, Weapons, and Geopolitics

The Israel Legislative Pipeline cannot be understood in isolation. It is part of a larger global financial system:

The Oil-Wars-Weapons Triangle:

1. U.S. military presence in the Middle East ensures stability (or instability) that affects oil prices
2. Oil prices affect global energy markets, which affect the profits of energy companies
3. Energy companies fund politicians who support military intervention
4. Military intervention requires weapons, which defense contractors manufacture
5. Defense contractors fund think tanks and politicians who support more military intervention
6. The cycle repeats

Israel's Role in the Triangle:

- Israel is the U.S.'s most reliable military ally in the Middle East
- Israel's conflicts with Iran, Syria, Hezbollah, and Hamas create demand for U.S. weapons
- Israel's intelligence sharing (Mossad) helps the U.S. monitor regional threats
- Israel's technological innovations (cyber, drones, missile defense) are integrated into U.S. systems
- The U.S. protects Israel; Israel creates demand for U.S. weapons; both benefit

The Financial Winners:

- Oil companies (ExxonMobil, Chevron, Shell) benefit from Middle East instability that keeps prices high
- Defense contractors (Lockheed, Raytheon, Boeing) benefit from perpetual demand for weapons
- Banks (Goldman Sachs, JPMorgan) benefit from financing arms deals and oil trades
- Hedge funds (Elliott Management, Paulson & Co.) benefit from commodity price volatility
- All of these entities fund the politicians, think tanks, and lobbyists who keep the pipeline flowing

The Financial Losers:

- American taxpayers ($9.2B+ annually)
- Palestinian civilians (thousands killed, millions displaced)
- Israeli civilians (caught in perpetual conflict)
- U.S. soldiers (deployed to protect oil interests)
- The global poor (who suffer from diverted aid and military spending)

E.19 The Money Trail — A Complete Map

This is the Israel Legislative Pipeline. It is not about shared values. It is not about democracy. It is not about security. It is about money — trillions of dollars flowing from taxpayers to defense contractors, from voters to politicians, from donors to policy outcomes. The pipeline is a machine, and the machine runs on cash.

APPENDIX F: THE 2026 TURNING POINT — A DOCUMENTARY RECORD

F.1 The July 15, 2026 House Vote — The Dam Breaks

On July 15, 2026, the House of Representatives voted on an amendment offered by Rep. Thomas Massie (R-KY) to H.R. 8595, the FY2027 National Security, Department of State, and Related Programs Appropriations Act. The amendment was simple and sweeping:

> "None of the funds made available under this Act shall be obligated or expended for Israel. The amount otherwise made available by this Act for 'Foreign Military Financing Program' is hereby reduced by $3,300,000,000."

The amendment failed, 104-314-10. But the outcome was not the story. The story was who voted how.

The Vote Breakdown:

- 103 Democrats voted YES — nearly half the caucus
- 98 Democrats voted NO

- 10 Democrats voted PRESENT (Bera, Brown, Bynum, Elfreth, Huffman, McCollum, Morrison, Pappas, Sánchez, Thompson)
- 1 Republican voted YES — Massie himself
- All other Republicans voted NO

Between YES and PRESENT votes, more than 50% of Democrats opted to NOT oppose cutting off aid to Israel — despite opposition from House Minority Leader Hakeem Jeffries, who allowed members to "vote their conscience."

Democratic Leadership Split:

- Hakeem Jeffries (D-NY): Voted NO. Called amendment "overly broad" and said Republicans were "weaponizing" it for "nakedly partisan reasons." But also called for "urgent change" in US-Israel relationship and reconsidering future assistance after MOU expires in 2028.
- Katherine Clark (D-MA): Voted YES. Called status quo "not tenable." "We should not provide a blank check for military aid to any country that does not comply with U.S. law, interests, and values. The Netanyahu government has failed to meet that standard."
- Nancy Pelosi (D-CA): Voted YES. "For the good of the Israeli people and the Palestinian people, it is clear that U.S. policy must change... The American people are rightly demanding an end to a perpetual cycle of war, and the Netanyahu government cannot maintain its current course. Therefore, while this amendment is ill-conceived, I vote yes for the message that it sends."
- Pete Aguilar (D-CA): Voted NO.

AIPAC's Response: AIPAC quietly ended online fundraising for 15 House Democrats who had been endorsed by the group but voted YES on the amendment. This was not announced publicly. It was discovered through tracking of AIPAC's digital fundraising operations. The message was clear: cross us, and we cut off your money.

Republican Strategy: The vote was intentionally brought to the floor by Republican leaders to force an awkward division on Democrats. Massie introduces this amendment every year. Republicans expected it to fail with minimal Democratic support, embarrassing the few progressives who voted for it. Instead, nearly half the Democratic caucus voted to cut off aid. The Republican strategy backfired — it revealed that unconditional support for Israel is no longer the Democratic Party consensus.

Member Statements — A Selection:

Rep. Ro Khanna (D-CA): "Today over 100 Democrats voted for the Massie Amendment to zero aid to Israel. My brother @RepBowman & @CoriBush lost their seats for this stand 2 years ago. As a colleague told me, Black martyrdom is normalized in America. Today I want to recognize their courage." Khanna also stated: "I'm voting yes on @RepThomasMassie's amendment to zero out all aid to Israel, including aid for offensive and defensive weapons like the Iron Dome. I cannot vote for aid to a country that committed genocide and has used tax dollars to detain Americans like me."

Rep. Greg Casar (D-TX): "I just voted to end US funding for Israel's weapons of war. More Democrats than ever before voted to block funding. That is a victory for the millions of Americans who have demanded an end to our taxpayer dollars going to fund genocide. Tomorrow we get back to work. We will win."

Rep. Delia Ramirez (D-IL): "There is no justification for providing $3.3 billion for more bombs. As the lead sponsor of the Block the Bombs Act, I call on my colleagues to vote HELL YES on the Massie Amendment." After the vote: "Today, 104 members of Congress voted against military funding for Israel. That is thanks to the tireless advocates and organizers who are pushing members of Congress to prioritize our communities instead of war. We must continue the fight to pass my Block the Bombs Act and end the genocide of Palestinians."

Rep. Seth Moulton (D-MA): "I'm voting yes for the Massie Amendment to prevent $3.3 billion in foreign military aid for Israel. We cannot continue to condone Netanyahu's actions that are against our moral conscience and our own national security interests by perpetuating the status quo. As Secretary Rubio said himself, Netanyahu pushed Trump into war with Iran, which has been an utter disaster for everyone except Iran. Netanyahu is also flagrantly violating international law and fundamental human rights by supporting settler violence and expanding territory in the West Bank. In responding to the horrific terrorist attacks of October 7th, Netanyahu has prosecuted a war in Gaza that has killed 60,000 civilians, including an estimated 21,000 children, with a strategy that has failed to dislodge Hamas, failed to produce a political endgame, and failed to provide any long-term plan beyond continued violence. Even Netanyahu himself recently called for ending U.S.-taxpayer support for Israeli defense. None of us should be to the right of Netanyahu."

Rep. Nancy Pelosi (D-CA): "Today, the Massie Amendment presents an unfortunate choice to the House. As one who is committed to a strong U.S.-Israel relationship and supportive of a two-state solution, I respect Leader Jeffries' decisive proposals to achieve a just and lasting peace in the Middle East. For the good of the Israeli people and the Palestinian people, it is clear that U.S. policy must change to attain that goal. The United States must be a force for security and stability. The American people are rightly demanding an end to a perpetual cycle of war, and the Netanyahu government cannot maintain its current course. Therefore, while this amendment is ill-conceived, I vote yes for the message that it sends."

Rep. Katherine Clark (D-MA): "The status quo is not tenable. We should not provide a blank check for military aid to any country that does not comply with U.S. law, interests, and values. The Netanyahu government has failed to meet that standard. I will be voting yes, not because I agree with the entirety of the amendment, or the GOP's cynical motivations for its consideration, but because I believe we must change course."

Rep. Thomas Massie (R-KY): "Madam Chair, Israel has the strongest economy in the Middle East. Their debt per GDP is in much better shape than ours. They don't need our money. In fact, they have claimed recently they want to get off of the welfare. I am concerned that the other funding mechanisms they are talking about, or co-mingling, our technology and supply chains, we will have even less transparency than what is going on here today, so I am opposed to that as well. I am opposed to all foreign aid. I didn't pick on Israel here. I offered an amendment to defund Egypt and also to defunding aid to Jordan. I am particularly concerned this year about the foreign aid to Israel. There have been 70,000 casualties in Gaza, and I don't think we should be a part of that. American taxpayers should not be conscripted into funding the military adventures of Israel."

Rep. Maxwell Frost (D-FL): "I will be voting yes on the Massie amendment to block $3.3 billion in funding to the Israeli military."

Rep. Ilhan Omar (D-MN): "The House will vote on an amendment to cut off aid to Israel. It is unconscionable we continue to fund this genocidal apartheid regime. Voting YES."

Rep. Ayanna Pressley (D-MA): Voted YES.

Rep. Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez (D-NY): Voted YES.

Rep. Rashida Tlaib (D-MI): Voted YES.

Rep. Cori Bush (D-MO): Defeated in 2024 and 2026, but her stand was vindicated. Khanna explicitly named her and Bowman as martyrs whose courage made this vote possible.

Rep. Jamaal Bowman (D-NY): Defeated in 2024, but his replacement George Latimer has been a reliable AIPAC vote. The irony: AIPAC spent $14.5M to defeat Bowman, but the movement he represented grew stronger without him.

The Significance: This was the largest vote against U.S. aid to Israel in American history. In 2023, 11 Democrats voted to block arms sales. In 2024, 18 voted against the National Security Supplemental. In 2025, 40 senators voted against bulldozers. On July 15, 2026, 113 members of Congress (103 Democrats + Massie + 10 Present) refused to affirm unconditional aid to Israel. The era of knee-jerk support is over. The pipeline is cracking.

F.2 The AIPAC Congressional Summit 2026 — The Donor Class Convenes

In February 2026, AIPAC held its annual Congressional Summit in Washington, D.C. More than 1,000 of AIPAC's top donors gathered for the three-day event. The summit was held amid "intense scrutiny surrounding the group's political tactics" — scrutiny that had intensified after AIPAC's $2.3 million failed attack on Tom Malinowski in New Jersey.

Speakers:

- Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu (via video)
- Opposition Leader Yair Lapid (via video)
- U.S. Ambassador to the UN Mike Waltz
- House Speaker Mike Johnson (R-LA)
- Senate Minority Leader Chuck Schumer (D-NY)
- House Minority Leader Hakeem Jeffries (D-NY)
- Sen. Tom Cotton (R-AR)
- Sen. Ted Cruz (R-TX)

Attendees: 400+ members of Congress met with AIPAC activists during the summit. The discussions focused on "the evolving threats facing Israel, the negotiations with Iran, solidarity with the Iranian people seeking freedom from a brutal regime, continued U.S. security assistance and expanding joint defense cooperation that will strengthen the security and strategic edge of both nations."

The Message: AIPAC was doubling down. Despite the 2026 primary losses, despite the Pew poll showing 80% of Democrats unfavorable toward Israel, despite the July 15 vote, AIPAC's donor class was not retreating. They were accelerating. The summit was a show of force — a reminder that even if public opinion has shifted, the money and the access remain.

F.3 The 2026 Progressive Wave — AIPAC's Losses Mount

AIPAC's 2026 primary record was its worst since the creation of UDP in 2022. The progressive candidates who won did not just survive AIPAC attacks. They won because of their opposition to AIPAC and unconditional Israel aid.

The Victories:

Candidate	District	Defeated	AIPAC Spending	Significance
Analilia Mejia	NJ-11	Tom Malinowski (AIPAC's own former ally)	$2.3M + attacking Malinowski	Progressive organizer, openly critical of Israel, won despite AIPAC spending more than any other group in the race
Adam Hamawy	NJ-12	Open seat (replacing Bonnie Watson Coleman)	Unknown	Army veteran and physician who operated on children in Gaza; backed by American Priorities, a new pro-Palestine super PAC founded to counter AIPAC
Daniel Biss	IL-09	AIPAC-backed Laura Fine (3rd place), Kat Abughazaleh, Bushra Amiwala	$7M+ via shell PACs	Jewish mayor of Evanston, explicitly campaigned against AIPAC; said AIPAC's influence "seems to have diminished"
Melat Kiros	CO-01	Diana DeGette (AIPAC-backed incumbent)	Unknown	Attorney and first-time candidate; made Gaza advocacy centerpiece of campaign

Candidate	District	Defeated	AIPAC Spending	Significance
Brad Lander	NY-10	Dan Goldman (AIPAC-backed, two-term incumbent)	Unknown	Former city comptroller; "liberal Zionist" defeated by candidate who openly criticized Israel's war
Claire Valdez	NY-11	Open seat	Unknown	Union organizer; victory speech: "free Palestine, organize your union and join DSA"
Dariali za Avila Chevalier	NY-13	Adriano Espaillat (AIPAC-backed, CHC chair)	Unknown	Gaza activist who attended pro-Palestinian rally in Times Square day after Oct 7; defeated 13-term incumbent chair of Congressional Hispanic Caucus
Abdul El-Sayed	MI-SEN	Haley Stevens (AIPAC-backed, $36M career total)	$14M+	Physician and progressive leader; statewide win in swing state Michigan. AIPAC: "Our members remain determined to ensure that voters reject Dr. El-Sayed and his radical anti-Israel agenda in November."

The Pattern: These were not flukes. They were part of a wave. In deep-blue districts, candidates who ran openly against AIPAC and unconditional Israel aid won. In swing states, progressive candidates proved they could compete. The old AIPAC playbook — spend millions, label opponent "anti-Israel," watch them lose — was failing in the places where Democratic primary voters actually decide elections.

AIPAC's Response: AIPAC's public statement after the Illinois primary was telling: "A great night for the pro-Israel community and a terrible night for anti-Israel candidates. Tonight's results tell a critical story: centering campaigns on attacking Israel and demonizing pro-Israel Americans is a losing strategy." But the statement conspicuously avoided mentioning the races they lost. When Daniel Biss won, AIPAC said nothing. When Analilia Mejia won, UDP minimized it: "The outcome in NJ-11 was an anticipated possibility, and our focus remains on who will serve the next full term in Congress."

The Analysis: Suzanne Chod, a political science professor at North Central College, assessed the situation accurately: "In this election cycle so far, this strategy seems to be, 'let's go after any candidate who is not blindly pro-Israel.' The strategy has to be reevaluated. If you're attacking candidates and trying to get them out and they actually could be your allies come January 2027, it's a really shortsighted strategy."

F.4 The AIPAC 2024 Election Memo — The Machine at Work

On November 7, 2024, AIPAC published an internal memo titled "Keeping Congress Pro-Israel." It was a victory lap — and a threat.

Key Claims:

- 361 candidates endorsed this cycle (75% of House members in-cycle, 84% of Senators in-cycle)
- 326 AIPAC-endorsed candidates won their general elections: 120 Democrats and 206 Republicans
- 98% win rate in called races
- More than 10,000 AIPAC members contributed over $53 million to pro-Israel candidates — "more than any other PAC in America"

- AIPAC is the top fundraiser for members of: Black Caucus, Hispanic Caucus, Republican Study Committee, Hispanic Conference, Main Street Partnership, Progressive Caucus, Asian Pacific American Caucus, Equality Caucus

The Defeated — AIPAC's Enemies List:

Target	District	AIPAC Spending	Outcome	Notes
Jamaal Bowman	NY-16	$14.5M+	Defeated by George Latimer	"Anti-Israel extremist"
Cori Bush	MO-01	$8.5M+	Defeated by Wesley Bell	"One of the most hostile critics of Israel"
David Kim	CA-34	Unknown	Defeated by Jimmy Gomez	"Anti-Israel candidate" who "opposed U.S. support for Israel and attacked AIPAC directly"
Katie Porter	CA-SEN	Unknown	Defeated by Adam Schiff	AIPAC "major contribution from UDP combined with other super PACs helped propel Rep. Adam Schiff to victory"
Barbara Lee	CA-SEN	Unknown	Defeated by Adam Schiff	Same race as Porter
Kina Collins	IL-07	Unknown	Defeated by Danny Davis	"Falsely accused Israel of 'genocide'"
John Hostettler	IN-08	Unknown	Defeated by Mark Messmer	"Anti-Israel former Rep." — went from 13 points behind to 19-point loss
Clarence Lam / Terri Hill / John Morse	MD-03	Unknown	Defeated by Sarah Elfreth	Multiple "anti-Israel candidates" in open seat; Elfreth overcame 7-point deficit
Brandon Herrera	TX-23	Unknown	Defeated by Tony Gonzales	"Far-right extremist" — AIPAC helped Gonzales by 407 votes
Bob Good	VA-05	Unknown	Defeated by John McGuire	Voted against $14.3B emergency funding for Israel; AIPAC supported McGuire

The Message: The memo was not subtle. "AIPAC is leading the political fight to keep Congress pro-Israel, helping Israel's friends win elections and defeating enemies of the U.S.-Israel relationship." The word "enemies" was used deliberately. American citizens running for Congress were described as "enemies" of a foreign policy relationship. This is not lobbying. This is political warfare.

F.5 Public Opinion — The Ground Has Shifted

The pipeline depends on a foundation of public support. That foundation is crumbling.

Pew Research Center, April 2026:

- 60% of all American adults have an unfavorable opinion of Israel (up from 53% in 2025, 42% in 2022)
- 80% of Democrats and Democratic-leaning independents have an unfavorable view of Israel (up from 69% in 2025, 53% in 2022)
- 70% of Americans under 50 have unfavorable opinions of Israel
- 47% of Democrats under 50 have a "very" unfavorable view
- 59% of Americans have little or no confidence in Netanyahu (up 7 points since 2025, 20 points since 2023)
- 76% of Democrats lack confidence in Netanyahu
- 52% of Democrats have "no confidence at all" in Netanyahu (up from 37% in 2025)
- 56% of Americans have a favorable view of the Israeli people (down 8 points since 2024, 11 points since 2022)
- 52% of Americans have a favorable view of the Palestinian people (stable since 2022)

- 70% of Democrats have a favorable opinion of the Palestinian people
- 64% of Jewish Americans have a favorable view of Israel, but 56% have little or no confidence in Netanyahu
- Only 4% of Muslim Americans see Israel positively

Gallup, 2024: 55% of Americans disapproved of Israel's Gaza actions.

The Disconnect: Congress has passed $18 billion in military aid since October 2023. The public — by overwhelming margins — opposes this. Among Democrats, the opposition is near-unanimous. Yet Democratic leadership (Jeffries, Schumer) continues to support unconditional aid. The pipeline is operating on autopilot, disconnected from the voters it purports to represent.

F.6 The Anti-BDS Legal Pipeline — Courts as Battleground

ALEC's anti-BDS model legislation has been adopted in 37 states (New Hampshire became the 37th in July 2023). But the legal challenges are mounting.

States with Anti-BDS Laws: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

Legal Challenges:

- Arkansas: Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals upheld the state's anti-BDS law in June 2022, ruling that boycotts are not protected speech under the First Amendment when they involve commercial activity. The Supreme Court declined to hear the appeal.
- Arizona: Partially struck down; modified to apply only to contracts over $100,000
- Georgia: Challenged; modified
- Kansas: Struck down in part; modified to exclude sole proprietors and small contracts
- Maryland: Challenged
- Texas: Amended to exclude sole proprietors, companies under 10 employees, and contracts under $100,000
- Federal courts: Multiple cases pending. The Eighth Circuit's ruling created a circuit split, increasing the likelihood that the Supreme Court will eventually address the issue.

The Compliance Economy: As documented in Appendix E, the anti-BDS laws have created a lucrative compliance industry. Law firms charge $500–$2,000 per hour to help companies certify non-boycott status. Software vendors sell "compliance monitoring" tools. Insurance companies offer "political risk" insurance. This is not about protecting Israel from economic harm. The BDS movement has had minimal economic impact. It is about creating a permanent enforcement mechanism that chills speech, generates revenue, and provides a template for suppressing other boycotts.

F.7 The Tom Malinowski Episode — When AIPAC Eats Its Own

Former Rep. Tom Malinowski (D-NJ) was not an anti-Israel radical. He was a moderate Democrat who had been "largely reliable on AIPAC's core issues during his time in Congress." But when Malinowski said he would be open to conditioning aid to Israel after leaving office, AIPAC turned on him.

In February 2026, UDP spent $2.3 million on attack ads against Malinowski in the NJ-11 special primary. The ads did not mention Israel. Instead, they highlighted his 2019 vote for a bipartisan border funding bill that included increased funds for ICE. AIPAC's super PAC was attacking a former ally over border policy — not Israel policy — to destroy his candidacy.

Rep. Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez called the attacks "an attempt to wholesale intimidate the entire party." She noted: "It's quite shocking how moderate of a stance that they are mobilizing against. We're not even talking about them targeting the left."

Malinowski lost to Analilia Mejia, a progressive organizer who was "loudly critical of Israel." AIPAC's attempt to punish a moderate for mild dissent resulted in the election of someone far more critical. It was a self-own.

Malinowski responded with an op-ed in The Bulwark: "If Democratic leaders collectively were to refuse its support, instead of letting it pick off candidates one by one, AIPAC would face a crisis." He called on the party to organize collective resistance.

The lesson: AIPAC's zero-tolerance policy is backfiring. By attacking moderates who express even conditional support, AIPAC is pushing the Democratic Party toward more radical opposition. The pipeline's enforcement mechanism is creating the very enemies it seeks to destroy.

F.8 The AIPAC Scorecard and Fundraiser Status — The Carrot and Stick

AIPAC does not just punish dissenters. It rewards loyalists with money, access, and prestige.

AIPAC's Top Fundraiser Status: According to AIPAC's own 2024 memo, the organization is the top fundraiser for members of:

- Congressional Black Caucus
- Congressional Hispanic Caucus
- Republican Study Committee
- Congressional Hispanic Conference
- Main Street Partnership
- Congressional Progressive Caucus
- Congressional Asian Pacific American Caucus
- Congressional Equality Caucus

This means AIPAC is the largest single source of campaign funds for members of these caucuses — including the Progressive Caucus, whose members often vote against AIPAC's priorities. AIPAC is funding both sides, ensuring that even progressive members owe their campaign viability to the organization.

The TrackAIPAC "Approved" List: Members who reject AIPAC money receive $0 or minimal contributions. Those who accept it receive hundreds of thousands or millions. The correlation is not coincidence. It is the carrot side of the enforcement mechanism.

The AIPAC Scorecard: While AIPAC does not publish a formal scorecard like some lobbying groups, it tracks every vote, every statement, every co-sponsorship. Members know they are being watched. The "semantic code" described by former Rep. Brian Baird is enforced through this invisible scoring system. Members who deviate are not told their score. They simply find that fundraising calls go unanswered, that AIPAC staffers are "too busy" to meet, that primary challengers mysteriously appear with million-dollar war chests.

F.9 The 2026 Illinois Primary — A Case Study in Shell PAC Deception

The March 2026 Illinois primary was AIPAC's most expensive state-level operation to date. AIPAC-affiliated groups spent more than $22 million on four Democratic House races (IL-02, IL-07, IL-08, IL-09). The operation deployed three shell PACs with anodyne names designed to obscure AIPAC's involvement.

Elect Chicago Women:

- Received $5.3 million from UDP
- Spent $1.18 million attacking Kat Abughazaleh in IL-09
- Spent $105,000 supporting Bushra Amiwala in IL-09
- Spent $5.8 million supporting Laura Fine in IL-09 (Fine finished 3rd with 20.4%)
- Name suggested a progressive women's empowerment group

- Actual purpose: defeat progressive candidates critical of Israel

Affordable Chicago Now:

- Received UDP funding
- Spent at least $4.3 million supporting Donna Miller in IL-02
- Miller defeated former Rep. Jesse Jackson Jr.
- Name suggested a housing affordability group
- Actual purpose: elect AIPAC-backed candidate

Chicago Progressive Partnership:

- Spent $1.2 million to boost Bushra Amiwala in IL-09
- Name suggested a progressive coalition
- Actual purpose: split progressive vote to help Fine
- Amiwala said it was a "transparent attempt by the hard-line, pro-Israel lobbying organization to split the votes of the district's progressives"

The Results:

- IL-09: Daniel Biss won (29.6%) despite $7M+ in AIPAC spending against him. Kat Abughazaleh finished second (25.9%). Laura Fine finished third (20.4%). AIPAC's strategy of splitting the progressive vote failed.
- IL-07: Melissa Conyears-Ervin (AIPAC-backed, $5M+ UDP support) lost to La Shawn Ford. AIPAC's candidate lost despite massive spending.
- IL-08: Melissa Bean (AIPAC-backed, $3.9M+ from affiliated groups) won, defeating Junaid Ahmed (endorsed by Ocasio-Cortez and Justice Democrats).
- IL-02: Donna Miller (AIPAC-backed via Affordable Chicago Now) won, defeating Jesse Jackson Jr.

AIPAC's Statement: "A great night for the pro-Israel community and a terrible night for anti-Israel candidates. Tonight's results tell a critical story: centering campaigns on attacking Israel and demonizing pro-Israel Americans is a losing strategy." But AIPAC conspicuously failed to mention the races they lost. The statement was selective truth — propaganda, not analysis.

The Aftermath: Rep. Jan Schakowsky (D-IL), who had held the IL-09 seat for 14 terms, withdrew her endorsement of Donna Miller after Miller accepted the endorsement of DMFI PAC, another AIPAC-affiliated group. Schakowsky's break with AIPAC was significant — she had been a reliable pro-Israel vote for decades, but the shell PAC deception crossed a line for her.

F.10 The FEC Data — AIPAC's PAC in 2025-2026

Federal Election Commission filings for AIPAC's PAC (January 2025–June 2026) reveal the scale of direct contributions:

Category	Amount
Total Receipts	$47,521,820.85
Total Contributions	$45,367,130.82
Itemized Individual Contributions	$44,711,504.66
Unitemized Individual Contributions	$470,626.16
Other Committee Contributions	$185,000.00
Total Disbursements	$46,330,183.47
Operating Expenditures	$1,979,754.27
Contributions to Other Committees	$43,960,130.82
Contribution Refunds	$390,298.38

In just 18 months (Jan 2025–June 2026), AIPAC's PAC raised $47.5 million and disbursed $46.3 million — almost entirely in contributions to other committees (i.e., campaigns and party organizations). This is on top of the super PAC (UDP) spending, which operates independently. The combined AIPAC political operation is on track to exceed $100 million in the 2026 cycle alone.

F.11 The UDP Donor Roster — Billionaires for Israel

United Democracy Project's donor list reveals the billionaire class that funds AIPAC's political warfare.

Top UDP Donors (2024–2026):

Donor	Background	Estimated Total	Other Political Activity
Paul Singer	Elliott Management (hedge fund, $60B AUM)	$10M+	Funded America 21 PAC ($3M), MAGA KY, Republican presidential candidates
Jan Koum	Former WhatsApp CEO	$5M+	Funded Nikki Haley's failed presidential bid
Haim Saban	Media mogul (Power Rangers, Univision)	$5M+	Longtime Democratic mega-donor; "I'm a one-issue guy, and my issue is Israel"
Marc Rowan	Apollo Global Management (private equity)	$5M+	Major Republican donor
Blair Frank	Real estate / investment	$3M+	Republican donor
Miriam Adelson	Casino magnate (Las Vegas Sands)	$2M+	Widow of Sheldon Adelson; donated $750K to MAGA KY PAC
John Paulson	Hedge fund (Paulson & Co.)	$1M+	Donated $410K combined to MAGA KY and America 21 PAC
David Messer	CEO, Freepoint Commodities	$250K+	Energy trading
Martin Geller	CEO, Geller & Company	$268K+	Financial services
Frank Blair	Equity portfolio manager, Capital Group	$200K+	Investment management
Bernard Marcus	Home Depot co-founder	$5.75M (to FDD alone in 2024)	Also major FDD donor; Republican mega-donor

The Jan Koum Connection: Koum, the former WhatsApp CEO who sold his company to Facebook for $19 billion, is the top donor to UDP. He also funded Nikki Haley's failed presidential bid. This is not a pro-Israel ideologue. This is a tech billionaire who sees Israel policy as a lever of political influence. His money flows to the candidates and causes that serve his interests — not Israel's security, but his own power.

The Paul Singer Multi-Vector Strategy: Singer is not just a UDP donor. He is a multi-vector political operator who deploys money across multiple PACs to achieve the same outcome. In the Kentucky primary against Thomas Massie:

- UDP: $4.1M opposing Massie
- America 21 PAC: $4.4M supporting Gallrein (Singer gave $3M)
- MAGA KY: $7.4M total (funded by America 21 PAC and other Singer-aligned donors)
- Total Singer-aligned spending in one House primary: $15M+

This is not democracy. This is oligarchy — a single billionaire purchasing a congressional seat through multiple cutouts, while voters remain unaware of who is funding the ads they see on television.

F.12 The AIPAC 2026 Total Spending — $138 Million and Counting

By August 2026, AIPAC's total spending across the 2022, 2024, and 2026 cycles had reached $138 million, according to The New York Times. This includes:

- UDP super PAC spending
- AIPAC PAC direct contributions
- Shell PAC pass-throughs
- Independent expenditures on TV ads, mailers, digital campaigns

The 2026 cycle alone is on track to exceed $60 million. And this does not include:

- The AIPAC 501(c)(4) operating budget ($100M+ annually)
- AIEF travel spending ($10M+ since 2012)
- Think tank funding (FDD, JINSA, AEI, Hudson)
- Defense contractor lobbying and campaign contributions
- State-level anti-BDS campaign spending
- Dark money 501(c)(4) groups

The true total pro-Israel political spending over three cycles is likely $500 million to $1 billion.

F.13 The Seth Moulton Statement — A Pro-Israel Democrat Breaks Ranks

Rep. Seth Moulton (D-MA) is not a Squad member. He is a former Marine, a moderate Democrat, and a longtime supporter of Israel. His July 15, 2026 statement explaining his YES vote on the Massie Amendment is worth reproducing in full, because it shows how far the Democratic Party has shifted:

> "We simply cannot continue to condone Netanyahu's actions that are against our moral conscience and our own national security interests by perpetuating the status quo. As Secretary Rubio said himself, Netanyahu pushed Trump into war with Iran, which has been an utter disaster for everyone except Iran. Netanyahu is also flagrantly violating international law and fundamental human rights by supporting settler violence and expanding territory in the West Bank. In responding to the horrific terrorist attacks of October 7th, Netanyahu has prosecuted a war in Gaza that has killed 60,000 civilians, including an estimated 21,000 children, with a strategy that has failed to dislodge Hamas, failed to produce a political endgame, and failed to provide any long-term plan beyond continued violence. Even Netanyahu himself recently called for ending U.S.-taxpayer support for Israeli defense. None of us should be to the right of Netanyahu."

This is not a radical statement. It is a factual statement from a moderate Democrat who has supported Israel his entire career. When Seth Moulton says "None of us should be to the right of Netanyahu," he is saying that the U.S. Congress has become more hawkish than the Israeli Prime Minister himself. The pipeline has pushed American policy so far to the right that even Netanyahu — a man who has built his career on rejecting Palestinian rights — has called for reducing U.S. aid.

F.14 The Hakeem Jeffries Position — Walking a Tightrope

House Minority Leader Hakeem Jeffries (D-NY) is the most powerful Democrat in the House. He is also one of the top recipients of pro-Israel PAC money ($1.5M+ career total). His position on the July 15 vote reveals the impossible tightrope that Democratic leadership must walk.

Jeffries voted NO on the Massie Amendment. But his "Dear Colleague" letter explaining his vote was remarkably critical of Israel:

- He called the amendment "overly broad"
- He said Republicans were "weaponizing" it for "nakedly partisan reasons"
- But he also said there are "more decisive ways to achieve the urgent change necessary when it comes to the far-right

Netanyahu government"

- He called for "reconsidering future US assistance to Israel after the current memorandum of understanding (MOU) expires in 2028"
- He allowed members to "vote their conscience" — a significant departure from party discipline on Israel votes

Jeffries is trying to have it both ways: maintain his AIPAC funding and leadership position while acknowledging that the status quo is unsustainable. But the ground is shifting beneath him. When 103 of his members vote to cut off aid to Israel — including his own Whip, Katherine Clark — the old consensus is dead. Jeffries can either lead his party toward a new policy, or he can be dragged there by his own members.

F.15 The Nancy Pelosi Evolution — From Speaker to Dissenter

Nancy Pelosi (D-CA) was Speaker of the House for eight years. She was one of Israel's most reliable defenders in Democratic leadership. Her 2024 statement on the Gaza war was measured. Her July 15, 2026 vote was revolutionary.

Pelosi voted YES on the Massie Amendment. Her statement:

> "For the good of the Israeli people and the Palestinian people, it is clear that U.S. policy must change to attain a just and lasting peace in the Middle East. The United States must be a force for security and stability. The American people are rightly demanding an end to a perpetual cycle of war, and the Netanyahu government cannot maintain its current course. Therefore, while this amendment is ill-conceived, I vote yes for the message that it sends."

This is Nancy Pelosi — the former Speaker, the most powerful woman in American political history, a Catholic grandmother from San Francisco — voting to cut off military aid to Israel. When Pelosi crosses this line, the line no longer exists. The pipeline has lost its most formidable Democratic defender.

F.16 The Katherine Clark Break — The Whip Cracks the Other Way

Katherine Clark (D-MA) is the House Democratic Whip — the person responsible for counting votes and enforcing party discipline. On July 15, 2026, she voted YES on the Massie Amendment, directly contradicting the Minority Leader's position.

Clark's statement:

> "The status quo is not tenable. We should not provide a blank check for military aid to any country that does not comply with U.S. law, interests, and values. The Netanyahu government has failed to meet that standard. I will be voting yes, not because I agree with the entirety of the amendment, or the GOP's cynical motivations for its consideration, but because I believe we must change course."

When the Whip votes against the Leader on the most contentious foreign policy issue of the decade, the leadership structure is broken. Clark's vote was not just a policy statement. It was a power statement — a signal to the caucus that the old rules no longer apply, and that members who vote their conscience will not be punished.

F.17 The Ro Khanna Recognition — Black Martyrdom in American Politics

Rep. Ro Khanna (D-CA) has become the most vocal anti-AIPAC voice in the Democratic Party. His July 15, 2026 tweet was extraordinary:

> "Today over 100 Democrats voted for the Massie Amendment to zero aid to Israel. My brother @RepBowman & @CoriBush lost their seats for this stand 2 years ago. As a colleague told me, Black martyrdom is normalized in America. Today I want to recognize their courage."

Khanna is explicitly naming the racial dimension of AIPAC's enforcement mechanism. Bowman and Bush are Black. They were the first targets of AIPAC's super PAC. They lost their seats for taking the same position that 103 Democrats now hold. Khanna is saying: the Black members who stood up first were sacrificed so that white moderates could follow safely later. This is not just about Israel. It is about who pays the price for political courage in America.

F.18 The Abdul El-Sayed Threat — A Swing State Reckoning

Dr. Abdul El-Sayed's victory in the Michigan Democratic Senate primary (August 2026) was the most significant progressive win of the cycle. Michigan is a swing state that will play a pivotal role in the 2028 presidential election. El-Sayed defeated Haley Stevens — an AIPAC-backed candidate who had received $36 million in pro-Israel PAC money over her career.

AIPAC's response was immediate and revealing: "Our members remain determined to ensure that voters reject Dr. El-Sayed and his radical anti-Israel agenda in November."

The significance: If El-Sayed can defeat Republican nominee Mike Rogers in November, he will prove that progressive candidates who repudiate unconditional support for Israel can win in swing states — not just deep-blue districts. This would shatter the AIPAC playbook entirely. The pipeline depends on the assumption that swing-state voters demand unconditional support for Israel. El-Sayed is testing that assumption. If he wins, the pipeline's foundational premise collapses.

F.19 The 15 Democrats AIPAC Cut Off — The Price of Dissent

After the July 15, 2026 vote, AIPAC quietly ended online fundraising for 15 House Democrats who had previously been endorsed by the group but voted YES on the Massie Amendment. The names were not announced. The cutoff was not publicized. But the message was clear: this is what happens when you cross us.

The 15 members who were cut off included some of the most vulnerable Democrats in the House — members from swing districts who depend on AIPAC's fundraising network to survive. AIPAC's calculation was simple: make an example of them, and the rest of the caucus will think twice before voting against Israel aid in the future.

But the calculation may be wrong. In 2024, AIPAC spent $14.5M to defeat Bowman. In 2026, 103 Democrats voted the same way Bowman did — without losing their seats (yet). The chilling effect is weakening. Members are looking at the 2026 progressive wins and realizing that AIPAC money is not invincible. The martyrs are multiplying faster than the executioner can kill them.

F.20 The Complete Picture — A Pipeline Under Stress

The Israel Legislative Pipeline is not a static machine. It is a dynamic system under increasing stress from multiple directions:

External Pressures:

- Public opinion has shifted decisively against Israel (60% unfavorable, 80% of Democrats)
- Young voters (under 50) are overwhelmingly critical of Israel (70% unfavorable)
- Progressive candidates are winning primaries by running against AIPAC
- Jewish Americans are increasingly critical of Netanyahu (56% have little/no confidence)
- The international community is moving toward recognizing Palestinian rights

Internal Pressures:

- The Democratic caucus is split down the middle on Israel aid
- Leadership (Jeffries, Schumer) is trying to maintain a consensus that no longer exists
- Moderate Democrats (Moulton, Pelosi, Clark) are breaking ranks

- The Black Caucus and Progressive Caucus are increasingly hostile to unconditional aid
- Members who were AIPAC's "friends" are now its targets (Malinowski)

Systemic Pressures:

- The shell PAC strategy is being exposed and may face legal challenges
- The revolving door is under scrutiny from ethics watchdogs
- The defense contractor profit motive is increasingly obvious
- The Netanyahu government's extremism is alienating even pro-Israel Democrats
- The cost of the pipeline ($9.2B+ annually) is becoming harder to justify

The Pipeline's Response:

- AIPAC is doubling down on spending ($138M across three cycles, on track for $60M+ in 2026 alone)
- The donor class is accelerating, not retreating (1,000+ donors at 2026 summit)
- New legislation (FUTURES Act, Stand with Israel Act) is pushing for even deeper integration
- The enforcement mechanism is expanding to target moderates, not just progressives
- The semantic code is being enforced more aggressively

The Outcome: The pipeline is cracking, but it is not broken. It still controls the committees, the floor mechanics, the money, and the enforcement. The July 15 vote was historic, but it was still a losing vote. The Block the Bombs Act still has no hearing. The FUTURES Act is still being inserted into the NDAA. The $3.3 billion is still flowing.

But the foundation is shifting. The public is turning. The party is splitting. The progressive wins are mounting. And the martyrs — Bowman, Bush, and the others who lost their seats — are being vindicated by the 103 Democrats who followed their path.

The pipeline will not collapse in a single vote. It will collapse when the 103 become 150, when the 150 become 200, when the Democratic Party finally aligns its foreign policy with its voters' values. That day is coming. The only question is how many more seats, how many more lives, and how many more billions will be sacrificed before it arrives.

APPENDIX G: THE HIDDEN PIPELINES — ACADEMIC, INTELLIGENCE, MEDIA, AND RELIGIOUS VECTORS

The Israel Legislative Pipeline does not operate through Congress alone. It runs through universities, intelligence agencies, media outlets, religious organizations, state legislatures, and international legal bodies. These hidden pipelines are less visible than campaign finance disclosures or roll call votes, but they are equally decisive in shaping what Americans believe, what politicians fear, and what laws get written.

G.1 The Academic Pipeline — Universities as Arms of the State

American universities are not neutral institutions. They are nodes in the Israel Legislative Pipeline — receiving federal funding, partnering with Israeli military institutions, suppressing pro-Palestine scholarship, and producing the next generation of policymakers who will staff the think tanks, government agencies, and lobbying firms that keep the pipeline flowing.

Federal Funding for Middle East Programs: The U.S. Department of Education awarded $283 million in foreign studies grants from 2020 through 2024, with $22.1 million directed to Middle East-focused programs. The top three recipients were Indiana University ($2.84M), Columbia University, and Georgetown University — each receiving over $2.5 million. These programs are not inherently pro-Israel or anti-Israel, but they exist within a funding ecosystem where federal grants shape research priorities, faculty hiring, and curriculum design.

The Indiana University Case: Dr. Abdulkader Sinno, associate professor of Political Science and Middle Eastern Studies at Indiana University, was named on a $2.84 million federal grant. He also served as faculty advisor for the Palestinian Solidarity Committee, which hosted anti-Israel protests after October 7, 2023. Sinno was suspended for Spring and Summer 2024 semesters — no lecturing, no advising student groups — after reserving a room for a PSC speaking event and marking it as an academic event despite his department chair declining to host it. The incident was described as an "honest mistake," but the punishment was severe. The message to other faculty: federal grants and pro-Palestine activism are incompatible.

U.S.-Israeli University Partnerships — The Military-Academic Nexus:

In 2024–2025, a wave of U.S. universities launched or expanded partnerships with Israeli institutions, many of which are deeply embedded in Israel's military apparatus:

U.S. University	Israeli Partner	Date	Military Connection
Harvard	Ben-Gurion University	July 2025	Study abroad program; postdoctoral fellowship for Israeli scientists at Harvard Medical School. Ben-Gurion offers accelerated undergraduate program for fighter pilots with close cooperation between university and flight school.
MIT	All 9 Israeli public universities	December 2024	Kalaniyot program allows Israeli scholars to come to MIT for collaboration. Includes Ariel University (illegal West Bank settlement). Hebrew University and Ben-Gurion cooperate with Defense Ministry to allow more soldiers to pursue academic studies than any other institution.
Columbia	Tel Aviv University	March 2025	Expanded academic initiatives. Tel Aviv University hosts military-academic programs.
Clemson	Hebrew University, Sapir College	March 2025	Agricultural technologies for Israel's western Negev. Sapir College is in the Negev, near military bases.
University of Utah	Ariel University	May 2025	Academic cooperation deal. Ariel University is located in an illegal West Bank settlement. The MOU explicitly lists Ariel as being in "Israel."

The Military-Academic Programs in Israel: A comprehensive Hebrew-language report by New Profile, an Israeli anti-militarization movement, identified at least 57 military-academic programs for active-duty soldiers and conscription candidates across Israeli universities. Financial cooperation between the Ministry of Defense and academia for soldier study programs from 2019 to 2022 exceeded NIS 269 million (roughly $79 million).

- Hebrew University: Receives NIS 32 million ($9 million) from the Defense Ministry for the "Talpiot" program — a military-academic program that trains soldiers for research and development roles in weapons manufacturing.
- Ben-Gurion University: Offers accelerated undergraduate program for fighter pilots involving "close and deep cooperation between the university and the flight school."
- Ariel University: Located in an illegal settlement, yet partnered with MIT and University of Utah. The Defense Ministry pays universities to host soldiers in academic programs while they serve.

The Palestinian Academic Erasure: While U.S. universities deepen ties with Israeli military institutions, Palestinian academia is being systematically destroyed:

- Harvard suspended its research partnership with Birzeit University, the largest Palestinian university in the West Bank.
- In Gaza, all 12 universities have been destroyed by Israel's war.
- Over 1,300 academics associated with Gaza universities have been killed — from presidents to deans, professors, and students.

- Dr. Wesam Amer, formerly dean at Gaza University, calls it "scholasticide" — "Israel's systematic and deliberate destruction of education as a tool of domination."

The ADL Campus Campaign: The Anti-Defamation League (ADL) has launched a systematic campaign to reshape American higher education around pro-Israel priorities. In August 2026, the ADL released two reports:

1. "Antisemitism Among Faculty and in the Classroom" — claimed to identify "pro-terrorism narratives introduced into coursework," "extra credit offered for attending anti-Israel rallies," and faculty "singling out Jewish and Israeli students."
1. "The Faculty Factor: Inside the Networks Driving Anti-Israel and Anti-Zionist Activism on Campus" — mapped how organized faculty networks have "deepened ties with student activist groups since the 2024 encampment wave and shielded them from accountability."

The ADL also announced the launch of a "Campus Classroom Reporting mechanism" — a confidential channel for students, staff, and faculty to report classroom-based bias. This is not an academic integrity tool. It is a surveillance mechanism designed to chill pro-Palestine speech by creating a permanent record of "incidents" that can be used to pressure universities to discipline faculty, revise curricula, and deny tenure.

The ADL's reports identified Faculty and Staff for Justice in Palestine (spanning 130+ university chapters) as a primary threat, noting that professors "explicitly recognize the strategic weight of their titles" and use them to provide "crucial backing for student activist groups." The ADL cited University of Illinois Associate Professor Maryam Kashani: "I think there's a certain legitimacy that comes with the letters before our names."

The ADL's CEO, Jonathan Greenblatt, stated: "Universities cannot claim to be addressing antisemitism seriously if they ignore what happens behind the classroom door and inside faculty governance." The implication: universities must surveil and discipline faculty who express pro-Palestine views, or the ADL will brand them as complicit in antisemitism.

The AAUP and Academic Freedom: The American Association of University Professors (AAUP) has pushed back, arguing that the ADL's campaign threatens academic freedom. In a 2023 statement, the AAUP noted that the implications of Israeli academia's complicity in Palestinian oppression "can no longer be ignored, especially after the advisory opinion of the ICJ on the legal consequences of Israel's policies and practices." The AAUP cited the UN General Assembly resolution (September 2024) demanding Israel "bring to an end its unlawful presence" in the Occupied Palestinian Territory within 12 months, and the Independent International Commission of Inquiry position paper (October 2024) stating that "states shall not render aid or assistance to educational, academic, research or cultural activities that support or maintain the unlawful occupation."

The AAUP's position is clear: academic freedom does not require complicity in occupation. But the ADL, the Israeli government, and their allies in Congress are working to make any criticism of Israel's academic-military nexus a punishable offense.

G.2 The Intelligence Pipeline — Mossad, CIA, NSA, and the Permanent War

The Israel Legislative Pipeline is not just about money and votes. It is about intelligence — the sharing of raw data, surveillance technology, and military secrets that binds the U.S. and Israeli national security states together at the deepest levels.

NSA Raw Intelligence Sharing: In 2013, The Guardian reported that the NSA shares raw intelligence including Americans' data with Israel. The agreement, revealed by Edward Snowden, allows Israel to access unfiltered NSA intercepts — including communications of U.S. citizens — with minimal oversight. This is not normal ally treatment. The Five Eyes intelligence alliance (U.S., UK, Canada, Australia, New Zealand) has strict rules about sharing data on each other's citizens. Israel has no such restrictions.

Mossad-CIA Ties: The relationship between Mossad and the CIA dates back decades. According to Newsweek (2014), Israel "won't stop spying on the U.S." despite repeated promises to cease. The CIA has documented multiple instances of Israeli intelligence operations targeting U.S. government officials, defense contractors, and academic researchers. Yet the intelligence sharing continues — because the pipeline is not about mutual trust. It is about mutual dependence. The U.S. needs Israeli intelligence on Iran, Syria, and Hezbollah. Israel needs U.S. intelligence on global threats and access to American military technology.

The NDAA FY2027 Intelligence Provisions: Senate Bill S. 4784 (NDAA FY2027) includes provisions that would further entrench intelligence sharing:

- Section 621: Requires notification when intelligence support to Israel is restricted. This means any attempt by the President or intelligence agencies to limit sharing must be reported to Congress — creating a permanent obligation to share.
- Section 622: Orders expanded intelligence sharing with Israel and Abraham Accords countries. A president could reduce sharing only for a specific national-security concern and would have to notify Congress within 15 days.

This is not intelligence cooperation. It is intelligence compulsion — locking in permanent data sharing regardless of changing geopolitical circumstances, human rights concerns, or strategic priorities.

The CIA Assessment on Permanent Defense Ties: In August 2026, Military.com reported that a CIA assessment flagged risks of permanent U.S.-Israel defense ties. The assessment warned that the deepening integration proposed in S. 4784 — including the FUTURES Act's "executive agent" provision and the intelligence sharing mandates — could create security vulnerabilities by making the U.S. dependent on Israeli technology and intelligence assessments, while exposing American defense secrets to a foreign government with its own strategic priorities.

The CIA's warning was ignored. The provisions advanced anyway. The pipeline is not driven by intelligence assessments. It is driven by political and financial incentives that override national security concerns.

The Defense Contractor Revolving Door: The intelligence pipeline is staffed by people who move between government, defense contractors, and lobbying firms — always in the same direction: from public service to private profit.

- Lloyd Austin: Before becoming Secretary of Defense under Biden, Austin earned seven figures from defense companies, including United Technologies (which merged into RTX/Raytheon). He also worked at Pine Island Capital Partners, a private equity firm that invests in defense companies and advertises its access to Washington.
- Over 500 former government officials are now lobbying for defense contractors, according to a 2023 analysis. Over 60% of the defense sector's 948 lobbyists used to hold government positions.
- The "reverse revolving door": Defense executives move into government, write the contracts that benefit their former employers, then return to the private sector with stock options worth millions.

This is not public service. It is regulatory capture — the defense industry has captured the agencies that are supposed to regulate it, and the legislators who are supposed to oversee it.

G.3 The DNC/Party Platform Pipeline — Controlling the Democratic Party from Within

The Israel Legislative Pipeline does not just operate through Republicans and conservative Democrats. It operates through the Democratic Party infrastructure itself — the platform, the convention, the delegate rules, and the nomination process.

The 2024 Democratic National Convention: The 2024 DNC in Chicago was a case study in pipeline control. The platform, drafted before Biden withdrew from the race, referenced Israel 29 times, Gaza 11 times, and Palestinians 9 times. It reaffirmed the 2016 Memorandum of Understanding as "ironclad" and committed to "Israel's security, its qualitative military edge, its right to defend itself." It did not call for an end to military aid. It did not call for an arms embargo. It called for a "negotiated two-state solution" — the same language that has been used for 30 years while settlements expand and Palestinian rights are erased.

The Uncommitted Movement: The "Uncommitted National Movement" — Palestinian-American activists and allies who refused to vote for Biden in the Michigan primary because of his Gaza policy — won 37 delegates to the convention. They demanded:

- A Palestinian-American speaker on the main stage
- A call for an immediate ceasefire
- An arms embargo on Israel

They got none of these. The DNC refused to allow a Palestinian-American speaker. When the Uncommitted delegates staged a sit-in on the final evening, they were joined by Representatives Summer Lee, Ilhan Omar, and Cori Bush. Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez joined via FaceTime. Muslim Women for Harris-Walz announced it would disband in protest.

In June 2026, progressive commentator Ta-Nehisi Coates argued that the Democratic Party's refusal to allow a Palestinian American to speak at the DNC contributed to Harris's defeat in the presidential election. The New York Times' Lulu Garcia-Navarro reported that many activists felt "very betrayed" and that their voices were silenced.

The Platform Committee Hearing: On July 9, 2024, the Platform Committee held a hearing where there was a call to end U.S. military aid to Israel. On July 11, the committee drafted the platform. It removed mentions of "Black Lives Matter," included police reform and studying reparations, removed Medicare for All but called for ending medical debt. It did not include a call to end military aid to Israel. Instead, it called for an "immediate and lasting ceasefire" — language that meant nothing while weapons continued to flow.

The Republican Counter-Strategy: While Democrats were divided, Republicans were unified. The Republican Jewish Coalition (RJC) announced it would plant 1,800 trees in Israel for each Democrat who praised Israel from the DNC stage. When asked how many trees they would plant for the 29 positive references to Israel in the platform, RJC CEO Matt Brooks said: "Zero." The message: Democratic support for Israel is performative and insufficient. Only Republican support counts.

The 2024 Platform's Irony: The 2024 Democratic platform included a section titled "STOPPING THE INFLUENCE OF SPECIAL INTERESTS" that called for:

- The DISCLOSE Act (requiring advocacy groups to disclose donors)
- Banning foreign entities from contributing to political campaigns
- Ending "dark money" by requiring full disclosure
- Banning 501(c)(4) organizations from spending on elections
- Prohibiting corporate PACs and lobbyists from donating to anyone they lobby

This was written into the same platform that AIPAC — a 501(c)(4) that spends dark money through shell PACs, receives foreign-adjacent funding, and operates the largest corporate-influenced PAC in America — helped shape. The pipeline is so embedded that the party can call for reform while being the object of reform.

G.4 The Evangelical/Religious Pipeline — Biblical Justification for Empire

The Israel Legislative Pipeline is not just a secular political machine. It is a religious crusade — one that uses biblical prophecy, end-times theology, and the promise of Christian salvation to mobilize millions of voters who will never see Israel, never meet a lobbyist, and never read a defense appropriations bill.

Christians United for Israel (CUFI): CUFI, founded by Texas pastor John Hagee in 2006, claims 10 million members — more than the entire U.S. Jewish population (7.5 million). It is the largest pro-Israel organization in the United States. Its advocacy is not based on strategic analysis or human rights. It is based on theology.

Sandra Hagee Parker, CUFI Action Fund chairwoman and John Hagee's daughter, stated at the JNS International Policy Summit in Jerusalem (April 2025):

> "From Genesis to Revelation, the Bible is clear about the centrality of the Jewish people and the nation of Israel. If you don't believe Christians should stand with Israel, you don't believe the Bible."

She continued: "Faith without works is dead. It's one thing to believe, but until you act on that faith, you haven't exercised it."

This is not political advocacy. This is religious obligation — and it is being weaponized for legislative outcomes. CUFI's 20th annual summit (June 2026) focused on advancing the Countering Hate Against Israel (CHAI) by Federal Contractors Act — the federal anti-BDS bill that would prohibit government contracts with companies that boycott Israel.

CUFI's Financial Power: CUFI and John Hagee Ministries have donated more than $180 million to support Jewish and Israeli causes. This is not small-donor grassroots activism. This is a mega-church empire with global reach, tax-exempt status, and a direct pipeline to Congress.

Christian Zionist Settlement Funding: A 2018 Haaretz investigation found that Christian groups had invested an estimated $50 to $65 million in Israeli settlements in the West Bank over the previous decade. These settlements are illegal under international law, yet American Christians are funding them through tax-exempt donations — subsidized by the U.S. taxpayer through the charitable deduction.

The Biblical Demographics:

- 82% of white American evangelicals believe Israel was given to the Jewish people by God (Pew 2013)
- 64% of white evangelicals believed Israel's actions in Gaza were justified (Chicago Council 2024) — compared with 32% of the American public overall
- CUFI's membership spans all 50 states and reaches millions with its "educational message"

The Political Impact: Evangelical voters are the base of the Republican Party. They vote in primaries. They donate to campaigns. They attend town halls. They write letters. And they do it not because they have analyzed the strategic value of the U.S.-Israel alliance, but because they believe that supporting Israel is a prerequisite for their own salvation. This is not democracy. This is theocracy by proxy — using religious belief to drive foreign policy that serves defense contractors, lobbyists, and the Israeli government.

CUFI's Response to the Iran Operation (February 2026): When the U.S. and Israel launched a joint operation aimed at regime change in Iran, CUFI's leadership issued a statement that revealed the theological underpinnings of their political positions:

> "For two decades we have said that the regime in Iran must go at the hands of its people with the aid and support of the free world; today those who stand at the vanguard of freedom are giving the Iranian people the means to take their country back."
> — Pastor John Hagee

> "There are only two sides in the conflict with the regime in Tehran, you're either with the Mullahs or the people; the United States and Israel are on the right side of making history." — Sandra Hagee Parker

> "The isolationists and capitulationists remain consistently wrong about the Middle East. The same voices that brought us to this point by subjugating American interests to Iranian fantasies – and predicted worldwide calamity following Israel's Operation Rising Lion – are now condemning efforts to end the regime's malign activities; those voices should be treated as irrelevant noise, nothing more." — Sandra Hagee Parker

This is not foreign policy analysis. This is crusader rhetoric — framing a complex geopolitical conflict as a binary struggle between good (U.S./Israel) and evil (Iran), with no room for nuance, diplomacy, or the rights of the Iranian people to determine their own future without American military intervention.

G.5 The Media Pipeline — Shaping Narrative, Suppressing Dissent

The Israel Legislative Pipeline depends on controlling the narrative. It does this through a coordinated media ecosystem that includes mainstream outlets, think tank publications, social media algorithms, and campus surveillance.

The ADL's Campus Surveillance Apparatus: The ADL's August 2026 launch of the "Campus Classroom Reporting mechanism" is a media pipeline tool disguised as an academic integrity measure. It creates a permanent, confidential database of classroom "incidents" that can be used to:

- Pressure universities to discipline faculty
- Generate media stories about "campus antisemitism"
- Provide data for congressional hearings and legislation
- Justify federal funding cuts to universities with "hostile environments"

The ADL tracked 1,694 antisemitic incidents on U.S. campuses in 2024 and 583 in 2025. While these numbers declined year-over-year, the ADL shifted focus to "behind closed classroom doors" — areas "traditionally hidden from outside scrutiny." This is not about counting incidents. It is about expanding surveillance into the last spaces where pro-Palestine speech is still possible.

The ADL's Faculty Network Mapping: The ADL's report "The Faculty Factor" mapped how "organized faculty networks have deepened ties with student activist groups since the 2024 encampment wave and shielded them from accountability." It identified Faculty and Staff for Justice in Palestine (130+ chapters) as a primary threat, noting that professors use their "institutional authority, tenure protections, and access to administrative channels" to support Students for Justice in Palestine.

The report cited professors at NYU and Columbia forming "physical barriers to impede law enforcement" during encampments, and professors at Northwestern "locking arms to block university police." It noted faculty "canceling classes in solidarity or holding classes and office hours directly inside protest encampment zones."

This is not a neutral analysis of campus activism. It is a dossier — a collection of evidence that can be used to pressure universities to revoke tenure, deny promotion, and fire faculty who support Palestinian rights.

The Think Tank Publication Pipeline: Think tanks like FDD, JINSA, AEI, and Hudson do not just produce policy papers. They produce media content — op-eds, TV appearances, podcast interviews, and social media campaigns that shape the narrative around Israel. Their scholars are quoted in The New York Times, The Washington Post, The Wall Street Journal, and on CNN, MSNBC, and Fox News. Their framing — "Israel is defending itself," "Hamas uses human shields," "Iran is the real threat" — becomes the default media narrative, repeated so often that it is accepted as fact.

The Social Media Algorithm Pipeline: While less documented, there is evidence that pro-Israel content receives algorithmic boosting on major platforms. Meta (Facebook/Instagram) has been criticized for suppressing pro-Palestine content, removing posts about Palestinian human rights, and labeling Palestinian journalists as "dangerous individuals." X (formerly Twitter) has been accused of amplifying pro-Israel accounts while suppressing Palestinian voices. TikTok has faced pressure from Congress to censor pro-Palestine content, with lawmakers claiming it is being used to spread "anti-Israel propaganda" to young Americans.

The combination of algorithmic suppression, ADL surveillance, think tank messaging, and evangelical media creates a information ecosystem where pro-Israel narratives dominate and pro-Palestine voices are marginalized, surveilled, or silenced.

G.6 The State-Level Anti-BDS Pipeline — 37 States and Counting

The Israel Legislative Pipeline does not begin in Washington. It begins in state legislatures — where ALEC's model bills are introduced by legislators who have never read them, voted on by members who have never debated them, and signed into law by governors who have never considered their constitutional implications.

The Anti-BDS Map: As of 2026, 37 states have enacted anti-BDS legislation:

Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, New Hampshire, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

Illinois — The First State: Illinois became the first state to pass anti-boycott legislation in 2015. The law created a state committee to monitor corporate compliance. Major companies have been punished:

- Unilever (parent of Ben & Jerry's): Lost millions in state pension investments after Ben & Jerry's refused to sell products in illegal Israeli settlements.
- Airbnb: Faced threats after delisting settlement properties.

- Netflix: Faced threats for content deemed critical of Israel.

The Compliance Economy: The anti-BDS laws have created a lucrative industry:

- Law firms: Charge $500–$2,000 per hour to help companies certify non-boycott status
- Consulting firms: Specialize in anti-BDS compliance for state contractors
- Software vendors: Sell "compliance monitoring" tools to state governments
- Insurance companies: Offer "political risk" insurance for companies doing business with Israel

The Expansion Beyond Israel: The anti-BDS template has expanded to other industries:

- Fossil fuels: Seven states introduced legislation requiring contractors to pledge not to boycott energy companies. West Virginia's version passed both houses in March 2025.
- Firearms: Some states prohibit boycotts of gun manufacturers.
- Reproductive health: Some states prohibit boycotts of companies that refuse to provide reproductive health benefits or gender-affirming care.

ALEC's Energy, Environment, and Agriculture Task Force voted in December 2024 to back a version of anti-energy boycott legislation. The model is the same: use state contract law to enforce corporate compliance with political positions favored by the ruling party.

The Legal Challenges:

- Arkansas: Eighth Circuit upheld the state's anti-BDS law in June 2022, ruling that boycotts are not protected speech under the First Amendment when they involve commercial activity. The Supreme Court declined to hear the appeal, creating a circuit split.
- Arizona: Partially struck down; modified to apply only to contracts over $100,000.
- Kansas: Struck down in part; modified to exclude sole proprietors and small contracts.
- Texas: Amended to exclude sole proprietors, companies under 10 employees, and contracts under $100,000.

The legal battles are not just about Israel. They are about the right to boycott as a form of political speech — a right that the Supreme Court has recognized since NAACP v. Claiborne Hardware (1982). The anti-BDS laws are a test case for whether states can use contract law to suppress political expression. If they succeed, the template will be applied to climate activism, labor organizing, and any other movement that threatens corporate profits.

The Federal Anti-BDS Bill: On April 16, 2025, Reps. Claudia Tenney (R-NY) and Jared Moskowitz (D-FL) reintroduced federal anti-BDS legislation modeled after state laws. The bill would prohibit federal agencies from contracting with companies that boycott Israel. It is the federal version of the ALEC model — a direct pipeline from state legislatures to Congress.

G.7 The International Legal Pipeline — ICJ, UNGA, and the Scholasticide

The Israel Legislative Pipeline operates not just in the U.S. but in international legal bodies — where the U.S. uses its veto power, diplomatic pressure, and financial leverage to protect Israel from accountability.

The ICJ Advisory Opinion (July 2024): The International Court of Justice issued an advisory opinion finding that Israel's continued presence in the Occupied Palestinian Territory is illegal because it violates "the right of the Palestinian people to self-determination and the obligation arising from the prohibition of the use of force to acquire territory." The ICJ made clear that other states have "certain legal obligations" to end Israel's illegal presence.

The UN General Assembly Resolution (September 2024): The UN General Assembly adopted a resolution demanding that Israel "bring to an end its unlawful presence" in the OPT and do so within 12 months. It called upon member states to implement sanctions against "natural and legal persons engaged in the maintenance of Israel's unlawful presence in the Occupied Palestinian Territory."

The Independent International Commission of Inquiry (October 2024): The Commission issued a position paper stating that "states shall not render aid or assistance to educational, academic, research or cultural activities that support or maintain the unlawful occupation. This applies to universities and other research or cultural institutions that support the occupation or that are physically located within the Occupied Palestinian Territory and support the occupation."

The U.S. Response: The U.S. response to these international legal findings was not compliance. It was defiance. Congress passed the Illegitimate Court Counteraction Act (H.R. 8282 / H.R. 23) to prohibit U.S. cooperation with the ICC and authorize sanctions against ICC officials. The U.S. vetoed or abstained on UN Security Council resolutions calling for ceasefires. The U.S. continued to supply weapons while the ICJ was issuing its opinion.

This is not a rule-based international order. It is a might-makes-right order where the U.S. uses its power to shield Israel from legal accountability, while simultaneously claiming to uphold international law against its adversaries.

The Scholasticide: The destruction of Gaza's 12 universities and the killing of 1,300+ academics is not collateral damage. It is a systematic campaign to erase Palestinian knowledge, history, and identity. Dr. Wesam Amer calls it "scholasticide" — "Israel's systematic and deliberate destruction of education as a tool of domination."

The U.S. universities that partner with Israeli military institutions while Palestinian universities are destroyed are not neutral. They are complicit — providing legitimacy, funding, and intellectual cover for a system that destroys education on one side while weaponizing it on the other.

G.8 The Israeli Judicial Overhaul Pipeline — Exporting Authoritarianism

The Israel Legislative Pipeline is not a one-way street. Just as U.S. legislation and funding flows to Israel, Israeli political practices flow back to the U.S. — including the techniques of judicial manipulation, political persecution, and democratic erosion that are being perfected in Israel and imported to America.

The Knesset's Judicial Overhaul (2023–2026): In March 2025, the Knesset passed a law to change the composition of the Judicial Selection Committee, increasing political influence by giving the governing coalition more control over judicial appointments, including the Supreme Court. The law is scheduled to take effect after the next Knesset election (October 2026).

In July 2023, the Knesset passed a law to bar the Supreme Court from reviewing government decisions on the grounds of "reasonableness." The Supreme Court struck down that law in January 2024 — the first time the court invalidated a Basic Law section. The government's attempts to limit the court's power have faced significant legal challenges.

In January 2026, the governing coalition advanced new legislation aimed at eroding the independence of legal institutions:

- One bill would subordinate ministerial legal advisers to the ministries' directors-general (political appointees), rather than the independent attorney general.

- Another bill would allow the government to appoint a civil service commissioner without a competitive, professional process, potentially politicizing civil service roles.

The Movement for Quality Government in Israel (MQG): MQG, a public interest NGO, has challenged Minister of Justice Yariv Levin's refusal to appoint a Supreme Court president. In September 2024, the Supreme Court held that Levin's conduct violated the Courts Law and instructed him to start the appointment process within 14 days. Levin stalled. In December 2024, the Supreme Court ordered Levin to call for a vote by January 16, 2026. Levin seized on trivial allegations against candidate Justice Amit to request an extension. The allegations had "all the hallmarks of a political hit job."

The Export to the U.S.: The techniques being used in Israel — packing courts, politicizing legal advisers, suppressing independent oversight — are being observed and emulated by authoritarian movements in the U.S. The playbook is the same: attack the judiciary as "activist," claim that elected officials should control appointments, and use trivial scandals to delay or derail independent candidates. The Israeli judicial overhaul is not just an Israeli problem. It is a template for democratic erosion that is being exported to the United States through the same pipeline that exports military technology and lobbying strategies.

G.9 The Defense Contractor CEO Compensation Pipeline — Personal Enrichment at Scale

The Israel Legislative Pipeline enriches not just organizations but individuals — specifically, the CEOs and executives of the defense contractors who manufacture the weapons sold to Israel.

CEO Compensation (2024):

Company	CEO	2024 Compensation	Stock Options	Notes
Lockheed Martin	Jim Taiclet	$20M+	Significant	Largest defense contractor; F-35, THAAD, PAC-3
RTX (Raytheon)	Gregory Hayes	$15M+	Significant	Iron Dome co-production, David's Sling, Patriot
Boeing	Dave Calhoun	$15M+	Significant	KC-46, Arrow-3, JDAMs, MOAB; defense segment revenue $6.5B in Q1 2023
General Dynamics	Phebe Novakovic	$15M+	Significant	Tanks, artillery, armored vehicles; netted $3.8B in 2024, up 14%
Northrop Grumman	Kathy Warden	$15M+	Significant	Drones, radar, cyber systems

The Executive Quote: General Dynamics' executive vice president, during an earnings call at the outset of the Gaza conflict, said: "You know, the Israel situation obviously is a terrible one…But I think if you look at the incremental demand potential coming out of that, the biggest one to highlight and that really sticks out is probably on the artillery side."

This is not a humanitarian concern. This is a profit analysis — treating a genocide as a business opportunity. The CEO of a company that manufactures artillery shells is discussing the "incremental demand potential" of a war that has killed 60,000 civilians, including 21,000 children.

The Revolving Door as Personal Enrichment:

- Lloyd Austin earned seven figures from defense companies before becoming Secretary of Defense

- Over 500 former government officials now lobby for defense contractors
- 60% of defense sector lobbyists previously held government positions
- The average revolving door operator earns $5M–$10M over their career

This is not public service. It is a wealth extraction mechanism — using government positions to secure contracts, then moving to the private sector to cash in on those contracts.
